County gets eclipsed

by Loretta Tappan

Approximately 250 people eagerly lined up outside the Marion Public Library and Museum (MPL) on Monday, August 21, to pick-up free solar eclipse-viewing glasses and watch the solar eclipse, in which the moon passes between the sun and Earth.

The line started to form around noon for the celestial event, which took place between 12:59 pm and 3:38 pm in Marion.

MPL received 1,000 glasses, thanks to a "Safe Eclipse Glasses" grant sponsored by Google and NASA and distributed by STARNet, an organization that offers science technology activities for libraries around the country. The children's department passed out 800 glasses during the week leading up to the event, saving the remaining 200 for patrons attending the library's eclipse program.

MPL staff started passing out the last couple hundred glasses at 1 pm and ran out within 25 minutes; however, a few pairs of eclipse glasses got passed around to share with others that did not get their own.

According to STARnetlibraries.org, 75 libraries around the state of Indiana received the grant for shipments of 200, 500, or 1,000 glasses, totaling over 2.1 million safe eclipse glasses distributed.

Starla Dobbs, a resident of Marion, wanted to share this unique opportunity with her son, Kaleb Dobbs, a student at Lakeview Christian School. Starla Dobbs said Lakeview did not have glasses, but permitted parents to sign their children out of school early for eclipse viewing opportunities. Kaleb Dobbs said he was excited to see the solar eclipse with his mom and thought the eclipse "looks like Pac-Man."

Tylanna Jones, head of the children's department at MPL, said staff also prepared other ways for patrons to safely interact with the solar eclipse such as the pinhole projection method. This method is done with the viewer's back to the sun, and then the image of sun as a crescent appears through an everyday object such as a hole in a paper plate, cereal box, or slightly open and crossed fingers on to a flat surface.

The library themed regular programs such as Preschool Tales around the celestial event of the century as well as, hosted special programs throughout the day, including a live feed from NASA on a flat screen television in front of the circulation department and

GOVERNMENT

Kellie Engelman, the community coordinator for the Affordable Housing Corporation (AHC), has applied to the Blight Clearance Program (BCP) administered by the Indiana Office of Community and Rural Affairs (OCRA) to demolish the former DanMar build-

Because of the historic nature of the structure, AHC has to make an effort to keep the west and north walls up in some way. Engelman said there is no height requirement for the two walls, so one option is to reduce them to the height of a fence. The historic property will become green space for at least five

The total demolition is projected to cost $388,000. The nonprofit is seeking a grant for $350,000 and will provide $38,000. The nonprofit will know in October if it receives the grant. The organization has applied for the OCRA funds before, most recently in March, to no avail, but Engelman said they were encouraged to apply again.

The city council voted 8-0, with one abstention from Councilman Alan Miller, at its regular meeting Tuesday evening to authorize the BCP application and, if awarded, to move forward with plans to demolish most of the former DanMar apartment building, located at 239 W. Third St.

The council also heard from Reverend Larry Emmons, a resident S. Boots St. Emmons told the council he was concerned with the amount of blighted homes in his area and the lack of street and sidewalk improvements.

Emmons said he contacted the city administration as well as the riends of Richard Parks, a resident ■of Jonesboro, surprised him with a brand new scooter on Sunday, August 20 during his regular visit to Tobby's on Main Street in Jonesboro. The Jonesboro fixture lost his previous bike due to theft a few weeks ago. Kammi Marine, the manager of Tobby's, said the bar, customers, and friends decided to pitch in and buy Parks a new ride. They decorated the scooter with a sign and balloons and rolled it into the bar.

"He is our mascot. Everyone loves Richie, and we couldn't stand to see him so sad," said Marine.

A crowd of about 30 showed up with food and hugs to celebrate Parks' new transportation. A teary-eyed Parks took a moment to thank everyone involved.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Editor:

The transformation Barnes Park at 6th and E streets made national news last week, when the work being done caught the attention of prevention experts who hosted a national webinar.

It was humbling to listen to the other presenter share about initiatives they have developed from across the world and then have the opportunity to present about our work in Marion.

I share this opportunity, not to brag, but to provide evidence that great things are happening in Marion and Grant County and that people are paying attention.

So many people locally have come together to make this project a success. While neighbors whose back yard is the park, have commented that more and more families are using the park. That alone is reason for excitement. As an advocate for families to live violencefree, having a safe, secure place for individuals and families to enjoy is of critical importance. Research has clearly shown the importance of parks and green space in reducing domestic violence, child maltreatment and other forms of violence. So stay tuned as more improvements take place to Barnes Park. While change there is happening, start to think about ways you can improve your neighborhood and the space that you call home. It might be as simple it is still far from complete, as taking time a couple nights a week to walk your neighborhood and pick up trash, or just walk your neighborhood and say hello to children and adults who are outside. This, too, is another protective factor for reducing domestic violence, as it increases social cohesion, which reduces the risk factor of isolation. Whatever you choose to do, just remember there are a lot of people who have chosen to live in Marion and they are making a difference that will improve the lives of all. Linda Wilk director, Hands of Hope, a division of Family Service Society,

State Route 18

The next day didn't go exactly as planned, due to a route error. We had decided in the morning to take State Route 18 to Bennington; the route looked simple enough. All we had to do was hop on 18 and go straight west. Google Maps tried to take us through Fort Riley, but the military personnel at the base weren't too keen on the idea We had to recalculate

We took State Route 18, thinking we could hop off it onto a frontage road along side I-70. Didn't work that way. It was closed off. We ended up hopping a barbed wire fence, crossing a field and trudging alongside the grass of I-70 for two miles before taking an exit and getting on a bike-passable

Finally, after another detour through town, we got on 18. The ride was harder than I expected. There are hills out here. Combined with the wind, it takes a good deal of effort to go several miles.

> We went 40 more miles to Bennington, and I was quite tired after totaling 68 miles for the day.

As we pulled into town there was a gas station, but no convenience store, so I went to the vending machine to buy a cold drink of any sort. The owner happened to be there and he told me that he had a cooler with Gatorade and water in the back of his pickup truck that I could have. "I can't charge someone who looks like you do right now a dollar-fifty for a drink," he said.

Random observations

• The amount of sunscreen I use is ridiculous, but I'm turning into a raisin out here. All my ancestors came from cold, gray places where the sun doesn't shine for the majority of the year. I'll leave the tanning to Donald Trump and guys named Pauly.

Riding late in the day isn't so bad. The sun's out un- to soggy tents. We packed til 9 pm here and the heat starts to taper off. A 12hour day is mentally tiring,

• If you're ever passing through Kansas on I-70. I'd recommend you visit French Press in Namota. Great coffee, and even better people.

 Anthony found a flat on his front tire, but one of his spare tubes had a defect in it and wouldn't hold air. I found the hole and used super glue to seal it. Super glue is a bike trip hack. Use it. Love it. Don't get it on your clothes. Thank me later.

• The towns are small and the land is like a grass desert with occasional small scape. It's spooky. Accordingly, I started listening to Pink Floyd's "Echoes," which is good for between five and six miles of riding—OK, maybe four miles if you ride as slow as I do and you skip the weird part in the middle where there's no music and the gulls are shricking.

ute songs like they used to. • As we were riding we spotted a fellow biker with panniers on his setup: A rare sighting of a fellow tourer. We stopped and talked with Wayne, an older gentleman with a big white beard, tanned skin, and tattoos. On the back of his bike he had a cart attached that was carrying his dog. He was coming from Oregon, so it was fun that we happened to meet. We said good luck to him and continued on our way.

the day early riser thing down yet. We left the motel around next door for some break-No headwind, heat wasn't like cruising on a bicycle.

We first hopped on a packed-down dirt road that paralleled I-70. We busted out 36 miles to Goodland, KS. in swift fashion and 18 miles from the Colorado border after lunch, that kept the motivation high for the afternoon ride.

Right on the border sits Kanorado, KS. It's a tiny little town that's seen better days. There are a lot like it in this part of the state: grain silos, railroad tracks, mobile homes, and not much else.

About five minutes after Kanorado, we were in Colorado. The landscape doesn't change one iota, but something shifts when you cross another border.

Holy cow, we just rode our bikes to Colorado.

The United Way Grant County increased community giving by up to $30,000, on top of the $350,000 Community Investment and $50,000 Grant received from the state association, through the launch of a pilot Mini Grant program this year.

The beta program targets local community organizations that are not participants in the Community Investment process but represent one of the three pillars of the organizations work: Health, Education, and Financial Stability.

Mahan: New law has helped reduce number of meth labs cates a 58 percent decline in statewide methamphetamine lab seizures so far this year. Indiana State Police report 254 meth lab busts occurred from January through June, representing a 58 percent drop from the 605 incidents during the same period in 2016. In addition, the number of children removed from meth lab environments went down nearly 68 percent from 108 to 35 cases.

Thanks to the action taken by Indiana State Police, local police departments and watchful pharmacy staff, Indiana is seeing a significant drop in meth lab busts. Unfortunately, the work isn't over. It's heartbreaking knowing any child has been caught in this epidemic, and in order to provide all Hoosier children a safe environment to grow up, we must easily catch fire or explode. Meth lab accidents often cause costly injuries to meth cooks and first responders. Over the past two years, child removals from Indiana meth labs declined approximately 81 percent. More children were removed from meth labs during a single month in 2015 than the first half of 2017.

As we continue to take action to help curb drug abuse in our state, we must remember that we cannot arrest our way out of this epidemic. Some of our most effective efforts have stemmed from commonsense reforms that prevent large purchases of key ingredients to make meth and provide treatment addiction services.

The statistics were appalling. According to the Indiana Prosecuting Attorneys Council, between 2013 and 2015 Indiana had dismantled 4,477 meth labs, and rescued 1.104 children living in meth lab environments. Over the corresponding time period, Indiana had seen a 32 percent increase in homicides. and neglect reports to the Department of Child Services, a 90 percent increase

There was inertia at the Statehouse as governors and legislative leaders were slow to move, some fearing the wrath and political contributions from the home health consumer products industry.

There were others, like prosecutors Dustin Houchin of Washington County, Mike Steiner of Martin County, Jeffrey Arnold in Delaware County and Vanderburgh County's Nick Hermann. devoted to chasing the sun, and had a lot of fun doing it. I have driven about 3,000 miles and visited 10 states and the month isn't over yet. I'll be leaving next week for Africa, but I don't have to worry too much about the sun there because it's the rainy season

I spent the first week of August visiting my boyhood hometown and family in New Jersey. Of course the nearby beach brought the usual effects of a little too much sun on my sensitive skin in spite of my efforts to hide from it. I even rented an umbrella, but still got too much on my feet and legs. I enjoyed seafood, hoagies, a visit to the Wildwood boardwalk, and spent most of my days just relaxing. Even though I'm retired, it's still fun to get away for a vacation, and that's what I did.

On my way to New Jersey I went across Maryland and met my brother Jim and his wife in Annapolis. They were traveling north from Florida to Connecticut and we just happened to be there the same evening. We had a delightful dinner on the Severn River at a little, outof-the-way restaurant that they knew about because Jim graduated from the nearby United States Naval Academy

The next day I crossed the Delaware Bay on the ferry that goes from Lewes, Delaware to Cape May, New Jersey. If you ever get out that way I would recommend that as a fun way to get into New Jersey. It's a lot easier than battling traffic in Philadelphia. Last week Karen and I made a trip to the Sunflower State of Kansas to see our son Adam and his family. Karen enjoyed taking his teen-aged girls back-toschool shopping and spending time with them. The twin boys are now seven months old and growing up so fast. Another purpose of the trip was to take in the total solar eclipse, and that was a challenge.

Being the planner I am,

WHERE'S MIKE? Mike Roorbach

I had it all drawn out. We had reservations to view this grand event in the path of totality at the Amelia Earhart Airport in Atchison Kansas. The Chamber of Commerce was hosting a grand event and it sounded like fun. The girls' school was out for this big day and they went with us. But the weather didn't cooperate, and the cloudy conditions turned to a drenching downpour right at the start of the eclipse, 11:40 local time.

We waited about 30 minutes and when it didn't let up, we headed east trying to run ahead of the weather and figuring at least we would be headed toward home. Around 1:00, six minutes before totality, we pulled into a city sports complex in St. Joseph, Missouri, where about 10 other cars were. Not knowing what to expect, and watching through clouds and intermittent raindrops, the 2:30 of the total eclipse were surreal.

It quickly got dark, streetlights came on, and someone nearby set off fireworks. The horizon was still light, but overhead was dark as night. It was a strange phenomenon and I'm so glad I was able to experience it I can only imagine what it would have been like in full sunlight. I recorded the last

The next total solar eclipse in the United States is April 8, 2024, just seven years from now. The path of totality will pass through Indiana, so get ready. I can only hope that I will still be alive to experience another such event Next week I'll be leaving

trip to Africa with Wycliffe Associates, doing Bible translation work. This is a volunteer opportunity that I was interested in, and it has worked out for me to join a team that will assist local language speakers to produce a Bible in their own language. Since I don' speak any other language, my role will be to assist in seeing that the eight-step process Wycliffe has developed is followed carefully so as to produce an accurate translation. Local church people and Wycliffe experts will do the checking of the final product to assure that. It is the goal of Wycliffe Associates to have at least part of the Bible in every known language by the year 2025. It's ambitious, but it's exciting to be a part of something so important.

I got inspired to do this in a number of ways. First, by the example set by my sister Peg and her husband Jeff, who are career Wycliffe Bible Translators. They spent many years in Mozambique, Africa, where they translated the Bible for the Takwane people. Beginning with only a spoken language, they created an alphabet and produced a written language and then the Bible. Their diligence and perseverance over many years provided me inspira-

So now it's my turn. I really need and would appreciate your prayers while I am on this adventure. I've given you the known part, but there are always unknown things that arise and can derail such a project as this. Please think of me and say a prayer for me as it comes to your mind. I will really appreciate it.

One of my first concerns in going to Africa was the hot weather and the sun. Not to worry! Here's the word I got from the area I'll be visiting: "Weather this week is low 60s at night, low to mid 70s during the day and rain every day. Rain every day does not mean all day, but usually a good heavy rain each afternoon. Yes, I'm taking my um-

Bend of the River neighborhood celebrates books and bikes

A crowd gathered in the Bend of the River neighborhood district for the third annual Books and Bikes Art Festival on Saturday, August 19. As the name implies, the festival celebrates books, bikes, and arts but it was also a time to celebrate community and borhood, education, health sustainable living, a lifestyle

David Homer, event committee member and resident, said they almost doubled vendor attendance this year with 23 community vendors lining up both sides of the 400 block of North Washington Street to greet patrons.

Madison Mosher, a designer, started designing and selling T-shirts specifically for the local community this summer and thought the one-day community event would be a great place to introduce her work. Mosher said the designs, such as "Marion By Choice" are about "taking pride in Marion, where you come from, and where you are." Mosher recruited friends DJ Jones and Sophie Stewart to help sell a selection of seven custom-designed T-shirts at the festival.

More than 30 bike riders participated in the slow roll bike ride at 1 pm.

Rachel Sims, a first-year at-said, "I enjoy attending Marion events where locals contribute by showing what they have been creating, and I like supporting that." Sims participated in the bike ride, which took cyclists from North Washington St. to Matter Park and looped back. Sim said she also enjoyed seating in the scenic Curfman's Garden. Local musicians Dakota

Parker and Kevin Angstmann each gave a free one-hour performance with DJ Roger Tappan playing music for the rest of the event

The event committee consists of the Bend of the River Neighborhood Association, community gardeners, local artists, Curfman's staff, and the Quilters Hall of Fame.

NOTICE OF REAL PROPERTY TAX SALE

Grant County Indiana Beginning 10:00 AM, 9/21/2017 County Complex, Chambers Local Time

Grant County

Pursuant to the laws of the Indiana General Assembly, notice is hereby given that the following described property is listed for sale for delinquent taxes and/or special assessments. The county auditor and county treasurer will apply on or after 9/5/2017 for a court judgment against the tracts or real property for an amount that is not less than the amount set out below and for an order to sell the tracts or real property at public auction to the highest bidder, subject to the right of redemption. Any defense to the application for judgment must be filed with the Grant County Superior 1 Court and served on the county auditor and treasurer before 9/5/2017. The court will set a date for a hearing at least seven (7) days before the advertised date of sale and the court will determine any defenses to the application for judgment at the hearing. The county auditor and the county treasurer are entitled to receive all pleadings, motions, petitions, and other filings related to the

> While the competitors raced, spectators who had come from far and wide took it all in, gasping in amazement as cars that one would expect someone from the Fast and Furious franchise to drive sped by. When they weren't racing, the drivers took the time to talk to wideeyed youngsters and field questions about their impressive automobiles.

Gordon Clark, who drove a black Mustang in the event, commended both the track and his experience.

"It's probably the best facility in the United States for half mile racing," Clark said. "You have the longest shutdown lane--which everyone appreciates, especially when you get going over 175 miles per hour. It's a big difference from when you are slowing down from 150 miles per hour, you need more room.'

When asked if he would come back next year, Clark gave a simple response. "Oh yeah, as soon as they post [the event,] I'll be back."

Randy Adams of Fort Wayne echoed Clark's sentiments. "It's been fantastic," Adams said. "You couldn't have asked for better weather or better competitors. It's all been great. I love events like a lot of towns will never get,

Eastbrook

Coming off a loss in the state title game, the Eastbrook Panthers were looking to start off the 2017 season on the right foot. On Friday night, the Panthers flexed their muscles and showed that they would be a force to be reckoned with once again this coming season.

The Panthers dominated on both sides of the ball, scoring 27 points in the first quarter on their way to a 54-13 victory over Norwell. "The biggest factor [in the victory] was just the way the game started," Adamson said after the victory. "[Kicker Zane] Shilts did an outstanding job to get things going. All of our scoring drives started on our side of the 50, mainly because of his kickoffs. We played some good defense to make them go three-and-out and I think field position was a big factor at the start of the game.

"It allowed us to score quickly because we didn't have to go very far for scores.'

The Panthers used quick scores throughout the first half to build a 41-0 halftime lead and cruised the rest of the way from there.

Offensively, the Panthers ran all over the Knights, picking up 281 yards on the ground. Adamson credited the offensive line for doing a great job of opening up running lanes throughout the

While the offense was clicking on all cylinders, the Panthers' defense kept the Knights at bay, making a living in the Norwell backfield and keeping them from gaining any momentum.

"The defense was very solid last night," Adamson said. "They took advantage of keeping Norwell in rough field position. It's tough in high school to start at the 20 yard line and have to go 80 vards every day. We finished with six or seven sacks, and that made a big difference North, the Giants started off

The Madison-Grant Argylls' season got off to a nightmarish start on Friday night, as the Argylls' defense gave up 51 first half points and 312 vards on the ground in a 72-0 blowout loss to the Tipton Blue Devils. All in all, the Argylls' defense gave up 448 yards.

Coach Kyle Booher could not be reached for comment.

some early anxiety to throw for three touchdowns and score one on the ground in his debut as the Giants' starting quarterback. 'The offense wasn't bad," Chambers said. "It was Justin's first game back in a while so during the pregame he had some jitters, [and] so it took him some time to calm down and let the game come to him. There are just some small things we need to work on [with him] to [help

A long kickoff return gave the Bulldogs a first down at the Mississinewa 35, and they were successfully able to drive down into the red zone. However, on second and goal from the nine yard line, Lapel quarterback Levi Frazier threw the ball into the waiting arms of Skeens, who scampered 98 yards to the house to give Mississinewa a 42-27 lead they would not relinquish.

Even though the Indians are far from a finished product, Coach Curt Funk was proud of how his team played from

"We knew this was going to be a tough game from start to finish," Funk said. "Lapel is a ranked program in the state, they have great tradition, and Coach Miller does a fantastic job with this football program. We knew this was going to be a four-quarter game, and that's what you want. I'm just real proud of our kids. We played five or six sophomores tonight, and they learned a lot in this game.

That's because the guys are young or inexperienced in new spots and trying to feel things out. When they got it right, things went well, and when they got it wrong, obviously they didn't.

"[However,] I feel that there are a lot of positives there, and I think that the things that did not go well for us are easily fixable. Giants kickers start season 2-0-1; Eagles go 1-1-1

Looking to put their sectional championship loss to Oak Hill behind them, the Eastbrook Panthers boys soccer team began their season on Thursday night against Columbia City. After a tremendous defensive effort on both sides, neither team was able to find the back of the net in a 0-0 tie.

In all sports, the first game usually gives coaches glimpses of issues that still need to be fixed. That was the case for the Panthers on Thursday night. "In the first game, you are still working out some kinks," Coach Adam Hallis said. "I think on our side we came out a little slow. [Columbia City] was a little more physical and a little faster than we were, [and] sometimes their physicality cancelled out our technicality. In the second half, it was a hard-fought game through the midfield, but no one really got through

"We are still trying to learn some offense aspects and [get some of the new guys up to speed.] There are things we will work on and iron out, but it's nice to get your feet wet early against a good team, so I think we accomplished what we wanted to accomplish tonight.'

Though a win is much more desirable than a tie, Hallis was pleased with how his team played in game one.

"I knew we were going to go up and play a good team who had a game under their belt and who had a chance to iron some things out. With a young team and with some new guys in, it was nice to see us gel. I would have liked us to create some more chances--I thought we had some good chances where we didn't score--but I'm satisfied with the way the guys

It was a whole different story on Saturday, as the Panthers dominated from start to finish in a 10-0 victory over an undermanned Central Noble team.

Central Noble only had nine players, and therefore they couldn't sub anyone out and get fresh legs on the field. Though Hallis believed this was a big reason for Eastbrook's goal barrage, he was also pleased with how the offense looked against Central Noble. "We had guys moving better today," Hallis said. "They [had some crisper runs] and they ironed was nice to see.'

Hallis also liked what he saw from the defense. Though they didn't have to do as much as they did against the Eagles, they still did a good job of keeping the ball in front of them. "They didn't get as many challenges as Columbia City gave them, but they did a good job distributing," Hallis said. "One of the things we like from the backs is being able to find the midfielders' feet, and all my backs did a good job [of doing that.]" Heading into next week, and with matches coming up against Oak Hill, Eastern, and Woodlan, Hallis knows that his team will have to continue to put forth superior effort in order to have contin-

next week will have some good offensive threats that will test our defense a little bit and also force us to be crisper on the offensive end," Hallis said. "Each week brings new challenges, and playing three games in a week will be a good chance for these guys to see where they stack up fitness-wise against some good competi-

there was a lot of buzz surrounding the Marion Giants boys soccer team. Some are saying it's one of the best boys soccer teams in the history of the school. After their season opener on Wednesday night against Fort Wayne Snider, the Giants showed everyone that the hype surrounding them is warranted.

Dominant play from the forwards, combined with outstanding defense and goaltending, were the key factors in the Giants 4-0 win over the Panthers. The trio of Devante Boyd, RJ Macomber, and Jonas Reed combined for three of Marion's four goals, as the three were locked in from the start of the contest, consistently creating offensive opportunities for one another. Reed scored the Giants' first goal, while Macomber finished with two.

"Our thing is to play for each other," Coach Jorge Berry said after the win. 'This is my 12th year, and those [goals in the first half] are the three finest goals we have scored in one game. There wasn't a lot of dribbling. It was very simple play, and guys believing and moving for each other--and we got good results.

"With those three up front, if they continue to play the way they did this evening--unselfishly--we will score four-plus goals each game."

While the Giants' offense moved like a well-oiled machine, senior goalkeeper Caleb Oliver held it down on the back end. Though he wasn't tested much, he made big saves when it mattered. Berry was pleased with a lot [tonight,] but he did come up big in the first half," Berry said. "He's matured. He was a little giddy last year. His shoulders weren't broad enough to carry all of that pressure. Now, he's taking the pressure and using it to his advantage. He's really worked hard."

Oliver's performance. "He didn't have to sweat

Though the season has just begun, Berry couldn't be more pleased with how it has started. "This is a team--I don't want to see they are the best team I've ever had because we have a lot of work ahead of us--but for an opening night game, they were win over the Columbia City Eagles on Monday.

For all intents and purposes, the Mississinewa Indians boys soccer team played a great game on Tuesday night against the Peru Bengal Tigers. They bested Peru in all facets of the game except for the one that really mattered, the final score.

After a hard-fought battle, the Indians were defeated by the Bengal Tigers 2-1 to begin their season 0-1.

"We won every category on that stat sheet--except [in goals scored,]" Forshey said after the tough loss. "We got 27 shots off--15 of those being on goal. We only had 13 [shots] on goal against us, and we had 11 saves from a new starting goalie, which [I] can't complain about."

The Indians were at a disadvantage from the start. Many players were forced to play new positions due to the ankle injury suffered by Noah Drake in the Grant County Jamboree back on August 12. "[The injury to Drake on Sunday] shuffled our starting lineup with little time to prepare, and I don't think the guys were comfortable with where they were,"

Forshey said. As a result of that, it took little while for the Indians to get going. "We started off sluggish," Forshey said. "In the first 20 minutes, we looked like we were asleep. In the last 60 minutes, we decided it was time to play

It wasn't all bad for the Indians, as two of their top players made their presence felt right away. Freshman striker Colin Yoder scored his first varsity goal on an assist from Sean Williams, who is arguably the best allaround player on the Indians'

However, after only scoring one goal in 15 shots on net against Peru, Forshey wanted his team to focus on finishing their offensive opportunities against Wabash on Thursday night.

Unfortunately, the Indians were unable to get their offense going, as they were defeated by Wabash 4-1 despite more strong performances from Yoder and Williams.

The story of the game wasn't on any particular player or players, but rather, it was on the two gruesome injuries suffered by Steven Nave and Thomas Steelman.

Nave suffered what was feared to be a broken wrist after being tripped up by Wabash defender, while Steelman left the game with severe back spasms shortly after that. Combined with the ankle injury to Drake, the Indians are down three starters in the early going of the

Unfortunately, the show must go on, and heading into Saturday's contest against Tri-Central, Forshey knew that players were going to have to take up the torch.

"We are down two starters," Forshey said. "That doesn't mean that we are down, that just means the next man has to step up. That's sports--injuries happen. They have the right mindset and the right attitude, and we are going to be

The Indians showed that they were indeed ready to go on Saturday. Despite being down three starters, the team rallied to put together another excellent performance in a 3-2 win over Tri-Central for their first win of the season.

In the absence of Nave, Steelman, and Drake, multiple players stepped up to get the job done and come away with the victory.

"The three goals today were by people who were playing a new position then they were the first two games," Forshey said. "Robbie Smith came off the bench to fill in for Thomas and netted the first goal on the new turf--his first goal of his high school career--within the first five minutes. Cory Quackenbush slid back to the midfield and put one home. Sam Tarpein--I pulled him from defense to push him up--and he was able to put our third

"To get three goals from three different people who haven't scored this season is another encouraging factor."

Yoder and Williams were impressive on the offensive side of the ball once again, combining for three assists in the victory, and, for the third game in a row. Forshev was impressed with how they played.

"Most people get slower when you put a ball at their feet--[Yoder] gets faster," Forshey said. "His touches of the smartest people when it comes to soccer IO that I know," Forshey said. "He understands what needs to be

The Indians have a tough three games next week, as defense could not recover they will play Huntington North, who has a storied soccer history, Fort Wayne Fusion, and Delta. With the right mindset, Forshey believes that his team has a chance to be successful in all three outings

"The biggest thing is that we need to keep our heads on our shoulders," Forshey said. "As long we go out respecting and not fearing our opponent, [we have a chance.]"

For the Oak Hill Golden Eagles last year, strong play on defense was a major key to their success. Heading into the 2017 season, head coach Jared Reel wanted that trend to continue.

In the season opener against Tipton on Tuesday night, the Golden Eagles did Oak Hill's offense exploded for six goals while stalwart defensive play on the back end kept the Tipton attack neutralized in a 6-1 "All in all, I believe our defense was the main factor that helped us obtain the victory." Reel said. "I cannot stress how much defense played a role in our win tonight. Goal scorers always lead the headlines in soccer matches, but I am very proud of how the defense and midfield played a major role in

After a sluggish start, the Golden Eagles settled in quickly and took control. "We started the game a little slowly, but after about 15 minutes we got into the game and began to possess the ball and push the ball forward," Reel said

Isaiah Henry and Luke VanBibber combined for three of Oak Hill's six goals while giving Blue Devils defenders fits all evening long.

"We have tremendous speed on the front line and on our wings, so it was difficult for Tipton to keep up with Henry and VanBibber."

Corn Gibson finished with a goal and an assist for the Golden Eagles, while Jaden Phillips and Brody Gibson also scored. Ethan Rolph and with assists in the Golden Going up against a tough Huntington North team on Thursday, Reel and the Golden Eagles knew they would have a challenge on their hands.

Despite a valiant effort, particularly in the second half, the Argylls were unable to recover from two Huntington North first half goals in a 2-1 loss. "Huntington North is an excellent team," Reel said after the loss. "They possessed the ball very well, which made it hard for us to get control of the ball. We chased the ball most of phenomenal. Williams is one our scoring opportunities. The goals scored in the first half by Huntington North were not really attributed to any fault of our defense. They made some really good runs into the box, which our from. The second goal was a free kick just outside the penalty spot. I believe that was from our wall not being set up properly."

The Golden Eagles came out much more aggressive after halftime and were finally able to create some offensive opportunities.

"In the second half we were able to get some possession and limit their shots on our goal. We were able to score from an excellent forward run by Corn Gibson through their defense, and he was able to lay the ball off to Luke VanBibber who was able to score."

Even in the loss, Reel was pleased with how his team played against a great program in Huntington North, considering they had another tough test on Saturday against Argos, who defeated them in the regional last sea-

After getting off to a sluggish start, the Golden Eagles played much better in the second half and scored in the waning seconds to come away with a 2-2 tie.

"We did not play particularly well in the first half," Reel said. "We had a hard time possessing the ball and passing to our team. In the second half we picked up the intensity and were able to get behind their back line but we could not finish. Corn Gibson was able to get us on the board with a phenomenal free kick about 23 yards out. We then had a mental breakdown in the back line, and they were able to score their second goal. In the [final] minute of the game we were able to get it in their box where Isaiah Henry was able to score the tying the goal with just 4 seconds left in the game.' was particularly impressed with the play of Carson Dodson, who played phenomenal defense throughout the game. "Dodson was our best player today," Reel said. "He was able to win the ball back from the Argos players time and time again."

Throughout the first week Reel's team has shown they will play hard from the opening kickoff to the final whistle. "Our strength so far been has our resiliency after facing adversity," Reel said. "The last two games we got behind but we never put our heads down and got back into both games."

While the Golden Eagles have shown resiliency, the offense is still a work in progress and something that the team will continue to work on as the season pro-

A fan so ardent he earned his school's nickname: Mr. Argyll his past weekend we said "Goodbye" to Mr. Argyll. Think of this:

There are five high schools in Grant County. Not too many folks get the nickname of their school, but in this case it was totally the right call.

Max Hurt—who, according to doctors shouldn't have lived to see his 10th birthday—outlived those predictions by nearly a half century. When he passed this past week he was one of the longest-living kidney transplant patients in the state of Indiana.

Bedridden most of his life. Are you kidding me? Max was one of the most active sports figures in Grant County: Calling the public address announcements for Argyll baseball here, giving reports on Madison-Grant on the fifth quarter there, and attending even the World Series to see his Cubs win last fall.

Max has served as my eyes and ears when it comes to Madison-Grant sports for more than three decades.

One of his friends asked me at his viewing Saturday who would I get to replace him?

"No one," I said. No one can replace Max Hurt.

Although he was ailing

Although he was ailing inside for most of his life, Max never let you know. Never once. Let me say that again: Never once did I hear Max Hurt complain about the hand he was dealt, healthwise.

inside for most of his life, Max never let you know. Never once. Let me say that again: Never once did I hear Max Hurt complain about the hand he was dealt, health-wise.

If all of us could have his constant "good vibes," this would be a much better place in live in.

I have been to many funeral viewings in Grant County the past 47 years, but I have never seen as many people who turned out this past weekend to say goodbye to Max.

They tell me only James Dean himself may have outdone Max, crowd-wise. Makes sense. Max's middle name was Dean, named af-
