Mississinewa 1812 draws crowds of 30,000, plus vendors and participants

by Loretta Tappan

The annual recreation of the Battle of Mississinewa of December 17-18, 1812 teaches visitors not only about the battle that took place in Grant County but also about life in the early 19th century. The reenactment and festival take place annually on the second full weekend in October just north of Marion in LaFontaine.

This year's event was held on October 13-15 and open from 9 am to 5 pm on Friday and Saturday, and 9 am to 4 pm on Sunday with battle reenactments scheduled at noon Friday, noon and 3:30 pm Saturday and 11 am and 1:30 pm on Sunday.

"It was a good year, and I think a lot of people learned from the vendors and demonstrators on their art, pottery, rope making," said Jeff Seacrest, president of the Mississinewa Battlefield Society, Inc.

Photos by Glen Devitt

More than 2,000 participated in the re-enactment of the Battle of Mississinewa in the War of 1812, held annually north of Marion.

The Battlefield Society is still crunching the numbers from this year's event, but Seacrest said the weekend went pretty well, attracting 30,000 guests, around 100 vendors, and 2,000 participants.

On Saturday evening after the event gates close, all 2,000 participants are invited to attend an 1812-style ball for dining and dance as a thank you from the Battlefield Society. Seacrest said about 300 participants turned up for the ball this year.

In addition to the weekend's festivities, the 1812 committee works on the battlefield property one weekend a month throughout the year and every weekend in September. During the week leading up to the event, Seacrest sets camp and remains there until the Monday following 1812.

Seacrest said the Sheriff's Department is also a big help in preparing the big event.

The 1812 battle started brewing in late April of 1808 when brothers, Tecumseh and The Prophet moved their followers from western Ohio near the mouth of the Wabash River and threatened Gov. Harrison's line of communication between Vincennes and Fort Wayne. After negotiations for the Treaty of Fort Wayne, destruction and deceit followed and ended with the most significant battle here in Grant County on the Battlefield of 1812.

Bringing attention to cancer, violence

Our community has set aside the month of October to call attention to two important issues: breast cancer and domestic violence. Both efforts are led by dynamic, forceful women in charge of effective, local organizations.

Jennifer Lane-Riefler is the executive director of Cancer Services of Grant County, which assists cancer patients in numerous ways through their journey, without charge for the many services they offer.

Linda Wilk is director of Hands of Hope, a division of the Family Service Society, Inc. The organization's mission is to intervene and prevent domestic and sexual violence and stalking through education, advocacy, and comprehensive strategies.

It would be difficult to miss the presence of pink ribbons and other pink accessories throughout the month, everywhere from school curricula to football players' uniforms.

Hands of Hope has also made a strong effort to distribute purple ribbons throughout the county—look for them on the lapels of men and women during the course of the month.

The News Herald has acknowledged both causes by coloring its masthead with both purple and pink for all four of its issues during the month.

Cancer Services put on its annual "Color Me Pink" 5K fun run earlier this month, to great response.

Hands of Hope has several events scheduled for the month, including asking people (even men!) to paint at least one fingernail (ring finger, left hand) purple to draw attention to the subject (in addition to wearing the purple ribbon).

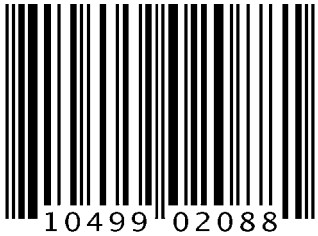

On Thursday, October 19, the organization is asking people to wear purple, take a picture as an individual or a group and post it to social media such as Twitter or Facebook.

Then, on Thursday, October 26, Hands of Hope will hold a candlelight vigil to remember domestic violence victims and to work as a community to prevent future generations of violence. The event will be at St. James Lutheran Church at 7 pm, with a survivor sharing her story and music from The Jordan Nicole Brown Band.

Brunner: Creating a community her children can believe in

Behind the Scenes features personal stories from people who work in important but often unrecognized roles in our community.—Ed.

Iris Brunner, the development director at Family Service Society, Inc., may also be considered one of Grant County’s leading women of community service. Her day-to-day is in a constant state of change, but her primary responsibilities are fundraising, marketing, and interdepartmental support. The organization hosts four major fundraising campaigns a year, in addition to year-round programming and services. “We are pretty multifaceted, but we have a communication plan for all of those campaigns, certain dates and times of how we communicate. I just implement that process and work hand-in-hand with everybody,” said Brunner. With October as Domestic Violence Awareness month, Brunner works closest with Linda Wilk, the director of Hands of Hope. Brunner provides the support Wilk needs such as creating signs, marketing content, communication pieces, and press releases. Previously, Brunner served as the community relations officer at the Via Credit Union but felt the draw to work in the nonprofit field. She said: “Ultimately, from all of the work that I’ve done in the community, I realized what my potential was and the kind of work I really wanted to be doing. I was being pulled more and more and more into the nonprofit land. I feel like I have that social purpose when I get up every morning.” Iris graduated from Marion

High School and returned home with her husband Paige Brunner after earning a bachelor’s degree in apparel merchandising and marketing at Indiana University. “I always knew we would come home,” said Brunner. Passionate about kids and her community, Iris has been involved with several organizations in the Marion-Grant County area. She currently serves on the Community School of Arts (CSA) as the secretary of the board, the Legends committee for the Girls and Boys Club of Grant County, an ambassador with the Marion-Grant County Chamber of Commerce, and a Marion North Rotarian and social committee member. She also helps as secretary of the Kendell Parent Teacher Organization. Previously, Brunner volunteered as president of CSA and chaired the Go-Arts Go-Karts and scholarship committees. She also took an active role in the human resources and board development of the Girls and Boys Club. Additionally, she has participated in the Marion North Rotary as past president, the Grant County Young Professionals Network (GCYPN) as past president, the Marion-Grant County Chamber of Commerce as past president of the Sales & Marketing Association, and a volunteer with Junior Achievement. “Junior Achievement is a really cool opportunity for kids—opportunities for them to thrive, also to be able to think about their future. I think it is my job to make sure they have those opportunities, whether they’re my kids or not. As a member of this community, we’re all raising these children,” said Brunner. “If art is what a child is interested in, then art is what we need to make sure we’re providing to them. If it is an education piece that’s missing, then we need to make sure we’re doing everything we can with that. And that’s Junior Achievement. Junior Achievement is providing them with the financial opportunities to learn.” Brunner received the 2013 GCYPN of the Year award and was one of the Women to Watch feature in the Chronicle-Tribune in 2012. She completed the Leadership Grant County 2010-2011

He coaches three sports, so I spend a lot of time supporting him and supporting his kids. They are his kids, and they feel like mine. We go and support his kids from team dinners to sporting events. We host a Christmas party every year.” Paige and Iris Brunner have been married for 10 years and enjoy spending time with

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Editor:

On Thursday, October 19, Hands of Hope, a division of Family Service Society, Inc., is asking the community to look in their closets and pull out a purple shirt, shorts, pants or dress and wear it to show support to end domestic violence in our community.

Across the state of Indiana, local residents—young and old—will be wearing purple to signify their belief that domestic violence is something that can be conquered.

If you chose to dress in purple on that day, also take a photo and post it on social media or send it to us and we will post it.

For more information about #Purple Thursday or any activities taking place in October around domestic violence prevention, go to Hands of Hope’s Facebook page or Family Service Society, Inc.’s website at www.famservices.com. You can also call Hands of Hope anytime at 765-664-0701.

As busy as her schedule may seem, Brunner continues to say, “I may not have money to give, but I certainly have time to give.” She believes the true essence of community service is giving back to your home and making this “a place where my kids want to stay.”

A Faithful Servant: Visibility, part nine

Matthew 9: 36-38

36 But when he saw the multitudes, he was moved with compassion on them, because they fainted, and were scattered abroad, as sheep having no shepherd. 37 Then saith he unto his disciples, The harvest truly is plenteous, but the labourers are few; 38 Pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he will send forth labourers into his harvest.

We have worked our way through my Top 10 over the last few months. Today we come to number nine, an area that is of vital importance. It deals with our visibility from different aspects. To refresh our minds and memories, let's review:

1. The Bible
2. Stewardship
3. Your Calling
4. Proper Training
5. You Are The Servant
6. Keep First Things First – People
7. Time Management
8. Availability

Now we come to our new topic: Visibility. There have been many times that I have prayed, "Lord help me see what you see." As I read this passage, (Matthew 9:36-38) Jesus is looking down over the city of Jerusa-

JUST A THOUGHT

Rev. Tom Mansbarger

lem. What did He see? He saw sheep without a shepherd, a people that gave Him nothing to admire. It wasn't a sight that brought discouragement, but rather a call for pity. As Jesus looked over the city, what was the condition of the people? They were faint. Proverbs 29:18 says, "Where there is no vision, the people perish." These folks were faint because they had been without guidance for too long. They were a scattered people. The greatest tool of the devil is division. Because of hardships and persecution by the Roman Empire, there was no unity of the people.

They were shepherdless. We all need a Shepherd, and I am thankful for the Lord Jesus Christ. I would not want to live without the Savior leading me. I hope you know Him as your Savior—Shepherd. What Christ brought to the people was foreign to them. He brought compassion. The Pharisees enjoyed the burden of the Law. They were able to lord over the people, and they did it very well. The people were not accustomed to a message of love and compassion like Jesus brought. The words He spoke brought hope to them. His message was one of mercy and grace directly from the Heavenly Father. What encouragement the people must have experienced. The God of Heaven really did love them enough to send His Son Jesus to bring them life. He also brought intercession, which they had never experienced. As I ponder what took place in this story, it is not hard to find the practical application. It not only revolves around what Christ saw, it hinges on what He did. He was visible. His ministry was built upon His personal work. He not only talked a good story, His life was a living testimony of His personal acts of love, kindness, and hope. His ministry was one for all to see. As a Pastor, I came to realize long ago that God never called me to sit at a desk all day long. He called me to minister to the people. This involves going to them. Jesus also teaches us to pray for those in need. I have always found it helpful when others pray for me, and tell me about it. People must know we are praying for them. There are many things we can't do, but we can all pray. Sometimes people come to mind for no apparent reason and I pray for them, then I try to tell them. I hope that God has called you to a visible ministry. People need to see you in action for the King of Kings and Lord of Lords. If you haven't been visible in the past, don't you think it is time to start? I am praying that God will compel you to get in to His service. Don't rob yourself of a real blessing!

I am for the child®

"As CASA we do have boundaries, but we are able to say things that provide support and comfort to children. Sometimes you're there to just speak words of truth to kids and to be there to encourage them. I was able to speak openly and share wisdom with a teenager that was struggling and was able to see the impact of that. Overall CASA is wonderful because of the difference you can make for one child at a time. -CASA Volunteer

Doing Good

Each week, Mike Roorbach, publisher's representative for The News Herald, presents "Doing Good" on WBAT. Here is the transcript of this week's segment:

I want to recognize all the generous students and staff at Eastbrook High School who gave blood when the Bloodmobile from the Indiana Blood Center stopped by there recently. Giving blood is a good thing and very much needed as the Indiana Blood Center needs 500 units a day. Recent national disasters have increased that demand, so if you can give blood it would be a good thing to do now.

Habitat for Humanity of Grant County just took applications for another home they plan to build for a needy, deserving family in our community. This good organization has now assisted in building 54 homes to improve lives here. That's an excellent track record and this organization is deserving of your support. You can donate or volunteer by calling them at 662-1552. It would be a good thing to do!

A group of good people got together on Sunday to pray for Marion at Matter Park. This group of folks have been holding public prayer times every few months to give people a chance to join together in prayer for our city and county. Thank you to those who organize this and to all who came to pray.

And while I'm mentioning prayer time, a big thank you to Marion Mayor Jess Alumbaugh for leading a prayer time every Monday morning at 7:30 in the Marion City Council chambers to ask for Divine help for our city. Anyone is invited and each week about 25-30 people gather for 15 minutes to start the work week with prayer. Mayor Alumbaugh started this his first week in office and has continued it ever since. This is a really good thing for our city.

Finally, a big thank you to the good people who organize and work to make Mississinewa 1812 go so smoothly each year. It takes a lot of good folks working really hard to do this each year, and the benefit to our community both culturally and economically is good. Some of the founders who started this event 30 years ago are transitioning out of leadership and we thank them and wish the same good fortune and success to their successors. Some good weather each year on that weekend wouldn't hurt, either.

Thanksgiving is just about a month away and to prepare us for that good season of thanks, I want to remind us of Psalm 92:1 from the King James Version of the Holy Bible, also known as the Good Book, where it says: "It is a good thing to give thanks unto the Lord, and to sing praises unto thy name, O Most High."

What book was banned in Biloxi? ‘To Kill a Mockingbird’

One of my most fondly recalled moments in covering the antics of government in Marion and Grant County was a good many years ago. The scene was a Madison-Grant school board meeting back when the offices were in Fairmount. Makes no difference now who was in the cast of characters that long-ago evening. Certainly the superintendent and high school principal were there and the school board and a few parents and staff members.

One among those attending had demanded that the then-popular book “Black Like Me” be removed from the high school library. The book was written by John Howard Griffin, a white journalist who had taken on the appearance of an African-American and written about the jolting experience of being black in a white world in the late 1950s. Griffin had used a chemical to darken his skin, a chemical that, not incidentally, eventually destroyed his health and led to his early death.

Anyway, the book was a hot-button issue at the time.

It dealt with issues that we didn’t want to deal with in middle America then...or even now.

The discussion was both rambling and heated. Finally the school board president, who was siding with the objectors, gaveled the meeting back to order and summarized the dissidents’ case:

Said he, “It’s not the book I object to. It’s the contents...” All sat in stunned silence, trying in vain to divine exactly what that meant.

As is usually the case among those howling for the head of an author, none of the objectors had read the book. They had been told this or that or had been shown a snippet here or there, enough to convince them that this rubbish in our school library would lead to moral decay, if not something worse.

I don’t recall now exactly how the crisis was resolved. Maybe the book was put behind the counter in the library; some such thing. Eventually, as such things do, it went away. Don’t know if “Black Like Me” is available in the Madison-Grant library today or not. If not, it is only a click away on the Internet.

Recalled that over the weekend as the book burners surfaced once again, this time in Biloxi, MS. This time to shout down the magnificently written classic from a couple of generations back, “To Kill a Mockingbird,” Harper Lee’s revealing look inside the souls of the residents of Maycomb, AL. Along the way she gave us that most revered of all fictional characters, wise old Atticus Finch and his daughter Scout, and Boo Radley, and, well, lot of other folks in what she called “that tired old town.”

The book--which won the Pulitzer Prize and was later a movie starring Gregory Peck as Atticus

A MOMENT

Ed Breen

Finch--was being used in an eighth grade English class in Biloxi up until last Thursday, when it vanished from the curriculum.

The reason? “Complaints about the wording,” said a school statement to the press. “It was an administrative and department decision,” a school board member said, “and not something that the school board voted on.” There; that gets the school board off the hook.

Said the school board vice president, “There were complaints about it. There is some language in the book that makes people uncomfortable, and we can teach the same lesson with other books.”

Well, of course there is some language in the book that makes people feel uncomfortable. There should be, there ought to be, there must be if the book is to reach out and touch.

Show me a book, or a painting, or a movie or a play that does not at some point inflict some discomfort and I’ll show you something probably not worth publishing, or reading.

A Biloxi resident, outraged by the action, wrote this to the school superintendent:

“I think it is one of the most disturbing examples of censorship I have ever heard, in that the themes in the story humanize all people regardless of their social status, education level, intellect, and of course, race. It would be difficult to find a time when it was more relevant than in days like these.”

Anything else need be said?

PHOTOS FROM THE WEEK—GLEN DEVITT

Monday was a big project for me, with headshots for the theater company at CSA (center, right). I also made it over to IWU for the second cast rehearsals for “You’re a Good Man, Charlie Brown” (above). I also saw the Mississinewa Lady Indians wrap up their 2017 volleyball season with a tough loss to Heritage at home (at right). Great season, ladies. I was over at the IWU Cross Country Course for the Regional competition. What a great day for a meet (see sports section).

I finished up my week with an annual visit to the 1812 event out at the Mississinewa Battleground (top and center, left). Threatening weather kept the crowd down on Sunday afternoon, but still a great event.

CROSS COUNTRY REGIONAL

It was a good day for Grant County runner in the boy's and girl's cross country regional race at Indiana Wesleyan University on Saturday morning.

Both regional champions were from Grant County schools. Brennan Butche of Mississinewa (at left) finished as the boys' champion with a time of 15:59.9, while Margo Hornocker of Oak Hill (leading the pack in the photo above, bib #334) finished as the girls' champion with a time of 18:09.3.

The Oak Hill girls' cross country team as a whole advanced to the semi-state this coming weekend at New Haven, finishing in first place with a score of 40. The Oak Hill boys' team also advanced, finishing in fourth place with a score of 130.

Butche, Mississinewa's Aurora Fisher, Marion's Jalen Springer and Joel Barnes, and Eastbrook's Connor White all advanced to the semi-state as individuals.

Grant County football—final week of regular season

Panthers, Indians win; Giants, Argylls, Eagles all lose

Eastbrook

The Eastbrook Panthers wrapped a perfect regular season on Friday night, easily dispatching the Blackford Bruins 63-0. With the win, the Panthers head into sectional play with a 9-0 record.

The Eastbrook rushing attack was potent once again, as the Panthers rushed for a combined 484 yards on just 25 carries. Edward Keasling led the way with 122 yards on three carries, while Justin Singer finished with 92 yards on the ground. Andrew Barajas scored three touchdowns on six carries, while Keasling and Davon Wallace scored twice. Singer and Saxon Malonek each scored once in the victory.

On defense, Clay Dalton led the way with 15 tackles and three tackles for loss, while Jake Donaldson finished with 13 stops.

Though he had wished his team's play was more crisp, Head Coach Jeff Adamson was proud of how his team played.

"On our part, it was a little sloppy at times," Adamson said. "We didn't seem as sharp as I would have liked us to be here at the end of the season. But, it was a good win, sealed up the conference for us, and allowed us to finish with an undefeated season. Overall, it was a good night."

Heading into their first matchup with the Eastern Comets, Adamson wants his team to remain determined once playoff play begins.

"There's a great deal of excitement heading into the postseason," Adamson said. "It's a new challenge and gives us something new to focus on. It's so important for everyone to understand that one penalty at the wrong time or one missed assignment at the wrong time jeopardizes everything."

"It takes a more intense focus heading into the postseason."

Madison-Grant

The Madison-Grant Argylls scored their most points in a game this season with 20, but they were unable to overcome the Elwood Panthers in a 44-20 loss. With the defeat, the Madison-Grant Argylls finished 0-9 in regular season play.

Even in the loss, Coach Kyle Booher continued to be proud of his team's continued improvement.

"The offense finally started to click a little bit and the passing game was working a lot better than it had been," Booher said. "The players found a way to get things done a little bit better."

In their first sectional game, the Argylls will face the Frankton Eagles, a team that has beaten them once already this year. Even so, Booher aims to show Frankton that this is a whole different squad then the one that played them just a few weeks ago.

"We have been a completely different team since [the first Frankton matchup]," Booher said. "The players are the same, but we've adjusted, we've [grown], and we've learned a lot. We feel like we have a little more experience under our belt, and we are ready to go up against Frankton [again]."

Marion

For the Marion Giants this season, their two biggest strengths have been the running game and their defense. In their final regular season game against the McCutcheon Mavericks on Friday night, the Giants struggled in both areas.

The Mavericks' defense kept the Giants' offense grounded, while Marion's defense gave up their second-most points of the season in a 29-19 loss. The Giants finished the regular season with a 6-3 record.

After both teams failed to score on their opening possessions, the Mavericks embarked on a nine-play drive that was capped off by a seven-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Peyton Williams to running back Austin Bennet to give McCutcheon a lead they would not relinquish.

Special team miscues hurt the Giants early in the second quarter. With Marion punting from midfield, the Mavericks blocked the kick and recovered the ball on the Marion 41-yard line. The Marion defense stood tall, forcing a three-and-out, but a muffed punt gave the ball back to the Mavericks at the Giants' eight-yard line. Three plays later, Williams threw his second touchdown pass of the game, this time a 20-yarde strike to Bryson McGhee to give the Mavericks a 14-0 lead.

While the McCutcheon offense was clicking on all the cylinders, their defense held Marion's playmakers in check. JK Thomas, who has been electric with the ball in his hands this year, was held to -20 yards on seven touches, unofficially, in the first half. The offensive line, which has done a great job of opening up running lanes for both Thomas and Marion quarterback Justin "Juice" Johnson throughout the season, was outplayed for most of the night, and because of that the Marion offense sputtered, particularly in the opening two quarters.

"I really felt that in the first half we were all in sync and played very well," McCutcheon Head Coach Ken Frauhiger said after the game.

It wasn't much better early in the second half, as wide receiver Isaiah Hamilton committed Marion's second turnover after having the ball stripped from him on Marion's second play of the third quarter.

McCutcheon responded with another well-executed drive, which was capped off by another Williams touchdown pass. On 3rd-and-3 from the Marion 35 yard line, Williams threw a perfect pass to wide receiver Kelden Tyson to give McCutcheon a three-touchdown lead.

Williams, a junior, has played well this season, and has certainly caught the attention of his head coach.

"He has improved tremendously," Frauhiger said of Williams. "He's a second-year starter, and every game he keeps getting better."

The Marion offense found some life on their next two drives, as a rushing touchdown from Johnson and a two-yard touchdown reception from Brayden Burke helped cut the Mavericks' lead to 21-12.

With the momentum on Marion's side for the first time all evening, McCutcheon responded with an 11-play, 85-yard scoring drive to put the game out of reach for the Giants.

Ultimately, a sluggish start doomed the Giants, but head coach Craig Chambers was proud of how his team battled. However, with their first Sectional game against Delta next Friday, Chambers knows that his squad must limit their mistakes if they are going to win and advance in the state tournament.

"We came out slow at the beginning, and it took us a little while to get started," Chambers said after the loss. "Our team—we are always going to fight and play hard. It's always the small things that beat us, and against good teams, you can't make mistakes and do some of the things we do."

"Offensively, we are very explosive. We just have to get more poise and take care of the small things. Defensively, we had a little let down tonight, and we need to get better going into next week."

Mississinewa

The Mississinewa Indians continued to roll on Friday night, scoring 60 or more points in their fourth game in a 69-20 victory over the Alexandria-Monroe Tigers. The Mississinewa defense, which has also been strong as of late, gave up some big plays early on, but eventually settled in and shut down the Tigers offense.

"We kind of started off a little slow on defense," Coach Curt Funk said. "We knew Alexandria was going to [move the ball well] on offense. Once we made some minor adjustments, our defense settled in. Our offense, despite a few penalties here and there, did a nice job of moving the ball."

Now, heading into their first Sectional matchup against the Frankfort Hots Dogs, Funk is looking for his team to remain focused and determined throughout the game.

"Everybody is 0-0, and you've got to have a sense season with a 14-4-1 record, which included their first Sectional title in school history.

Semifinal

In the boys soccer Regional semifinal, played at 10 a.m. on Saturday at Oak Hill, Eastbrook defeated Bellmont, 3-2, coming from behind to do so.

The Panthers took the early lead in the game, a very early lead, when junior midfielder Noah Ross took a low pass from the left wing and tapped it home just 1:40 into the game.

"An early goal is nice; it takes some pressure off of you," said Panthers Head Coach Adam Hallis, then he added, "but it also can relax you a little bit too much." That may well have happened to the Panthers, because the Braves quickly worked their way back into the game.

As the half went on, both teams settled into a midfield battle of careful, controlled possessions. The Braves pressured the Panthers more as the half went on, and then they broke through.

Twice.

With 5:54 left in the half, junior midfielder Tanner Walker had a free kick ricochet to his feet, took a touch and then put it in.

Marion defender Christian Lemons clears a ball off the line in the Giants' Regional semifinal against Ft. Wayne Concordia.

Just 3:40 later, with 2:24 left in the half, he did it again, gathering in a rebound that Panthers goalkeeper Jacob Huber parried away and then sliding it under Huber for a 2-1 Braves lead.

That lead stood up as the second half wound down, but in the process the Braves started to pull back a bit and the Panthers started to push forward and pressure them more. By the midway point of the half, it appeared that Bellmont was content to try to protect its slim margin and counterattack when the opportunity came.

"I don't know if they were just sitting back," said Hallis, "They're just organized. They play in a controlled way."

Then at almost the exact midpoint of the half (20:07 left), Eastbrook fed Ross a through ball up the middle of the offense and freed him to walk in on goal and find the right corner to tie it up.

It stayed that way all through regulation and into the first of two seven-minute overtimes (not sudden death). With 2:33 left, Eastbrook had a free kick that Bellmont goalkeeper Dusty Loshe handled, but he gave up a rebound which Eastbrook's Brendan Wilson knocked in.

"That's tough for a keeper when he's got his guys and our guys in front of him, and the ball bouncing around," said Hallis, "and [we] just hope somebody pokes it in."

The Panthers held off the Braves for the rest of the first overtime and all of the second to collect the win and earn a spot in the evening's Regional Final.

Marion

For the first eight minutes of the boys soccer Regional semifinal at Oak Hill Saturday afternoon, it looked as if the Marion Giants might overpower the Ft. Wayne Concordia Cadets.

In the first minute, senior attacker RJ Macomber headed a shot that just went over the goal.

A minute later, Macomber sent a long chip into the box that bounced over the head of Concordia keeper Jonathan Mueller when he misjudged it; it, too, just cleared the crossbar.

"We should have probably been up 2-0 after the first two minutes," said Marion Head Coach Jorge Berry.

The Giants' pressure continued for another six minutes and then, completely against the run of play, Concordia pushed the ball up the left wing, crossed it in and scored when Adam Gottschalk caught Marion goalkeeper Caleb Oliver only partway out of his net.

That switched the momentum, and for much of the next 60 minutes the Cadets dominated play. Specifically, the Cadets' midfield con-

Eastbrook girls soccer falls in Regional semi

After capturing their fourth sectional title in six years, the Eastbrook Panthers moved on to face Fort Wayne Blackhawk Christian in the regional semifinal, a team that had beaten them once already this year.

Unfortunately, the end result was the same, as the Panthers' season came to an end with a 3-1 loss.

Eastbrook played well to start the match, maintaining consistent pressure offensively. However, in the second half, fatigue set in, and Blackhawk Christian capitalized, scoring twice to secure the victory and eliminate the Panthers.

"The first half we played really well," Coach Rebecca Shrontz said after the loss. "We dominated the game [in the first half]. We outshot them 16-5, and at halftime it was 1-1. I think what happened in the second half was that the girls had injuries they were dealing with and [because of that], we just couldn't maintain that intensity the whole game. That's what really hurt us."

Eastbrook finished the season with a record of 14-3-2.

trolled play, and their defense smothered Macomber.

With less than 15 minutes to go, however, Concordia started to play somewhat passively, and Marion was able to put some offensive possessions together and pressure the Cadets.

"They got one up early, but we kept playing," said Berry, "we're not going to quit and with two minutes left we got one back."

"Tyler Anger played the simple ball across and Kevin Guy...was where he was supposed to be and knocked it in," Berry said.

With the game tied 1-1, the teams played through two scoreless seven-minute overtime periods. The game would be decided on penalty kicks.

Concordia immediately took the lead when two of its first three kickers converted their chances (Oliver saved the other), and Marion's Oliver and Anger both failed. When the Cadet's fifth kicker, Jeron Armstrong, made his kick, it gave the Cadets an insurmountable 4-2 lead and clinched their advance into Saturday night's Regional final.

"They [the Marion players] left it on the field," Berry said, "and as a coach, I can't ask for more than that... We'll be back next year, just as good, and hopefully we'll play these guys again and we'll see what happens."

Madison-Grant sweeps aside Oak Hill for Sectional title

Eastbrook

The Eastbrook Panthers were eliminated from the state tournament on Thursday night, losing in four sets to the Eastern Comets (18-25, 25-22, 22-25, 19-25). Though the Panthers did have good moments, their inconsistent play ultimately sealed their fate and ended their season.

“We were both very equal teams,” Coach Kelly Arnold said after the loss. “Eastern just wanted it more. They fought for a lot of points. We made more errors...we were giving them points.

“There were a few rallies where we would give it [everything we had] but we couldn’t string those points along.

“They gave effort and they fought, it just wasn’t consistent throughout the entire match.”

Eastbrook finished the season with a 7-18 record, a three-win improvement from last season.

Madison-Grant

The Madison-Grant Argylls began their sectional championship quest with a four-set win over the Tipton Blue Devils on Thursday night (25-13, 25-27, 25-17, 25-18).

The Argylls got off to a strong start, dominating the Blue Devils early.

“I thought everybody

Mississinewa fell in straight sets to Heritage Christian, ending their season with a 23-7 record.

played pretty well in the first set,” Coach Robert Holloway said after the match. “Tipton made several errors, and we capitalized on them.”

However, as has been the case in several matches this season, the Argylls let up and didn’t play with as much intensity. The result of that was an error-filled second set, which they lost by two points.

“In the second set, we were up 21-17, but we made a lot of errors,” Holloway said. “We had a lot of service errors and a lot of attacking errors. We just did not play well at all.”

The Argylls were able to refocus after the second set, earning victories in the third and fourth sets to secure the victory and move on to face the Eastern Comets.

Heading into Saturday, Holloway hoped that his team would play with energy and enthusiasm regardless of the score or the outcome.

“Whether we win or lose, we need to focus on what we can do and doing it to the best of our ability,” Holloway said. “We just need to play well and do what we are supposed to do.”

On Saturday, the Argylls won the Sectional title, defeating Eastern in four sets in the semifinal before making quick work of Oak Hill in a three-set sweep in the final.

Against Eastern, Holloway thought his team’s effort was questionable, but the Argylls played well enough down the stretch to secure the victory.

“We were able to keep our composure because we didn’t play particularly well, especially in the second set,” Holloway said. “We let down a little bit, and we made a lot of errors. In the final two sets, we still didn’t play well, but we won.”

The Argylls were much improved against Grant County rival Oak Hill in the Sectional championship match. After trailing by three points midway through the opening set, Madison-Grant went on a tear, scoring 14 of the next 18 points to win the set and take control of the match.

“[We did a] better job of serving where we wanted to, and we only had three service errors,” Holloway said. “That helped us quite a bit. It kept a lot of our runs together. That was the biggest key for us. We outscored them 14-4 at end of the first half, and [that] set the tone for the rest of the match.”

Heading into the Regional semifinals next weekend, the Argylls will face off against a familiar foe, the Alexandria-Monroe Tigers. Holloway knows that for his team to be successful and advance, they must remain focused throughout the match, as well play mistake-free volleyball.

“It’s just a matter of execution for us,” Holloway said. “We’ve seen them so much. We know exactly how they serve, we know all of their players, [and] what their tendencies are. It just boils down to execution.”

Marion

For the second straight season, the Marion Giants suffered an early playoff exit, as they were defeated by the Bellmont Braves in three sets. As has been the case for most of their season, the Giants were inconsistent throughout the match, and at times struggled with passing and their serve-receive.

Even so, Dale Gearhart’s team gave it their all, and despite the loss, he couldn’t have been more proud of the way they played.

“Bellmont is a good and strong team,” Gearhart said after the loss. “They have a lot of good hitters. Our passing was so-so. Sometimes it was really good and sometimes it was just okay. Our serve-receive, at times, was good, and other times, it wasn’t. Our defense was good at times, and at other times, it wasn’t.

“However, I was proud of how we fought. We did not give up. We kept fighting, and we kept competing, and I really proud of how [we played] in the Sectional this year.”

Rashaya Kyle, Madisyn Timmons, Jo’zya Johnson, and Leilanu Jackson each finished with five kills, while Emily Lindsay dished out 19 assists. Alisha Mullenix led the defensive effort with 15 digs.

The Giants improved their record for the third straight season, finishing at 16-17, the best record in Gearhart’s tenure as head coach.

Mississinewa

In their first Sectional matchup on Saturday morning, the Mississinewa Indians never got it going in a three-set loss to the Heritage Patriots. Mississinewa had multiple opportunities to turn the tide of the match, but they were never able to cash in.

“Heritage is a really great team, but we just didn’t control the things that we could control,” Coach Hope Coons said after the season-ending loss. “When we had opportunities, we didn’t always take [advantage].”

Later in the regular season, there were a few matches where the Indians didn’t come out as focused or ready to play, and in the biggest game of the season it proved costly.

“We lacked intensity, and we kind of let the game happen to us,” Coons said. “[We can] still beat a lot of teams [even with mistakes], but Heritage is a good enough team where there was no room for error.”

Mississinewa ended their season with a 23-7 record.

Oak Hill

On Saturday, the Oak Hill Golden Eagles dominated the Taylor Titans in their Sectional semifinal showdown before dropping a three-set decision to the Madison-Grant Argylls in the Sectional championship.

Against Taylor, the Golden Eagles won the match easily, not allowing the Titans to score more than 17 points in any of the three sets (25-7, 25-17, 25-6).

Taylor Westgate and Ashlyn Transier finished with eight kills each, while Ella Ridgeway recorded 11 assists. Lexi Carmichael, Ridgeway, and Brittany McCorkle each finished with five digs in the victory.

The Golden Eagles’ season came to an end later on Saturday evening, as Madison-Grant dominated from the start (16-25, 14-25, 9-25).

Oak Hill finished the year with a 15-16 record.

of urgency,” Funk said. “Our focus will be on the fundamentals, and we have to give all of our attention to Frankfort. The kids have to be at their best right now.”

Oak Hill

The Oak Hill Golden Eagles had several chances to give themselves a chance, but they were unable to get the job done in a 19-2 loss to the Frankton Eagles.

The Oak Hill defense gave up a huge play on fourth down, which led to an early Eagles’ score. With a chance to tie the game on their ensuing drive, the Golden Eagles dropped two passes on consecutive downs to turn the ball over. After taking a two-score lead into halftime, the Eagles cruised the rest of the game to secure the victory.

“We just didn’t take advantage of opportunities,” Coach Bud Ozmun said. “Before you know it, we are down 13-0 at halftime. Thirteen points is not an insurmountable lead, but we seemed defeated, and we just couldn’t get any energy going in the second half. We had an opportunity to stay in the ball game early, and because we didn’t, we lost focus and just didn’t get the job done.”

Heading into their first playoff game against Delphi on Friday, Ozmun wants his team to focus on the things they do well and use those to their advantage to potentially come away with a win.

“You can find positives in our play the last two weeks,” Ozmun said. “You look for the positives, and anything we aren’t doing well, we will do our best to fix it. We’ve got nothing to lose. Nobody is expecting us to go far. We just need to go out and let it rip.”

Men's Soccer

On Wednesday night, the IWU Wildcats men's soccer team blew a two-goal lead in a 3-2 loss to the Grace Lancers.

The Wildcats scored two goals in the first 16 minutes of the match, but the Lancers answered back with three straight tallies to secure the victory.

Glauber Oliveira scored both goals for the Wildcats, while Sammy Conti recorded two assists.

The Wildcats put together one of their best efforts of the season on Saturday night, maintaining consistent pressure and playing great defense in a 2-0 victory over the Bethel Pilots.

Conti scored his fourth goal of the season off an assist from Yan Moraes, while Oliveira scored his sixth goal in the 71st minute to secure the win.

Andrew Wick recorded five saves in the shutout victory.

Women's Soccer

Despite rainy conditions and cold temperatures, the IWU Wildcats women's soccer team recorded their eighth shutout of the season in a 3-0 win over the Grace College Lancers.

Tia Sanford scored in the second minute of the game for the Wildcats' first goal, while Maddison Miller and Tristen Gonzalez scored two minutes apart later in the first half to give IWU a lead they would not relinquish.

Lexis Garcia finished with two assists, while Alex Seabeck made seven saves in the shutout victory.

The Wildcats were leading the Bethel Pilots 2-0 on Saturday before the game was suspended due to lighting and thunder. A make-up date has not been announced at this time.

Volleyball

After an eight-day layoff, the IWU Wildcats volleyball team didn't miss a beat, winning their third straight match in a 3-0 victory over Spring Arbor University (25-19, 25-21, 25-18).

Tay Thomas and Morgan Miller led the way with 12 kills, while Emily Workman and Katie Cole combined for 39 assists. Banner Rodgers led the Wildcats' defensive effort with 15 digs in the victory.

Abigail Rutt finished with two aces, while Rodgers had one.

"It was good to get the 3-0 win tonight," Coach Candace Moats said. "I was proud of the girls because after coming off of an eight-day break and battling the stress of midterms, they were able to still bring energy to the game."

On Friday evening, the Wildcats lost to the Bethel Pilots for the first time since 2013 in a five-set defeat. (17-25, 25-17, 25-23, 23-25, 14-16).

Before Friday's match, the Wildcats had won 10 straight against Bethel. Despite recording 10 more kills than the Pilots, the Wildcats committed 37 attack errors in the loss.

Morgan Miller led the Wildcats with 13 kills, while Thomas finished with 12 and Kelly Miller recorded 10. Workman had a great all-around game, finishing with 25 assists, 14 digs, and 10 kills. Rodgers led the defensive effort once again with 27 digs.

On Saturday, the Wildcats got back in the win column with four-set victory over the Goshen Maple Leafs (25-21, 24-26, 25-12, 25-10). For the Wildcats, it's their 34th straight win over Goshen dating back to November 5, 1996.

During the third and fourth sets, IWU scored 25 of 29 points to secure the victory.

Thomas finished with a career-high 18 kills, while Lauren Gross added 13 terminations. Cole finished with 30 assists, while Rodgers finished with 16 digs in the victory.

Taylor University

Football

Junior quarterback Everett Pollard became the Taylor Trojan's all-time leader in touchdown passes on Friday night, tossing his 53rd and 54th scoring strikes in a 56-14 loss to Marian University.

Pollard is now the Trojans' all-time leader in touchdown passes and fifth in program history with 5,302 yards.

Marian scored the first 28 points of the game and took control from there.

Pollard finished the game with 22 completions for 221 yards and two touchdowns to go along with 23 yards on the ground. Grant Hohlbein finished with six catches for 84 yards, while Kyle Kempton finished with 36 yards receiving.

On defense, Matt Nguyen finished with 11 tackles, while TJ Swore had seven stops and 1.5 tackles for loss. Nate Phillips recorded an interception in the loss.

Men's Soccer

The Taylor Trojans lost their fourth straight match in a 2-0 defeat to Bethel College.

The game was tied 0-0 at halftime, but the Pilots scored two goals off of free kicks in the second half to secure the victory.

On Saturday, Taylor senior Sam Hardy scored early in the contest to help the Trojans win their first league match of the season in a 2-0 victory over Marian University.

In the seventh minute of the game, Hardy ripped a ball from the top of the box into the upper right hand corner of the net to give the Trojans a 1-0 lead.

Freshmen Zoltan Suranyi scored an insurance goal for the Trojans in the 69th minute to secure the victory.

Women's Soccer

On Wednesday night, the Taylor Trojans women's soccer team won their second league match of the season in a 1-0 shutout victory over Bethel College.

Danielle Toren scored her second-career goal off of a Megan Kammer free kick to secure the Trojans' victory.

Taylor controlled the game throughout, outshooting the Pilots 23-4 while also holding a 14-0 advantage in corner kicks.

Lauren Engelkes and Lauren Cammarano combined for the shutout.

The Trojans scored in the fifth minute of their contest against Marian University on Saturday, but the 15th-ranked Knights scored three-second half goals to hand Taylor a 3-1 loss.

Bailey Zehr scored Taylor's lone goal off of an Emily Calvani assist.

Volleyball

Three Trojans reached double-digit kills, but it was not enough, as Taylor fell in four sets to Grace College on Wednesday evening (21-25, 15-25, 25-14, 16-25).

Haley Harrell led the team in assists (33) and digs (19), while Gerig finished with 17 digs in the loss.

On the first day of the Cornerstone tournament on Friday, the Trojans were defeated by a pair of ranked opponents, No. 16 Madonna University and No. 18 Cornerstone University.

Against Madonna, the Trojans tied the match with an epic 35-33 win in the second set, but Madonna won the third and fourth sets to secure the victory.

The second set against Madonna was the only game that Taylor would end up winning, as Cornerstone swept the Trojans in three sets.

The Trojans lost their third match of the weekend against Siena Heights University (23-25, 24-26, 23-25) before defeating Northwestern Ohio in four sets on Saturday.

Against Northwestern Ohio, Taylor finished with an attack percentage of .231 against the Racers with 58 kills and just 22 hitting errors in 156 attempts.

Marion American Legion Post 10 won its first sectional since 1959 by beating Kokomo 5-3 in the finals. That put Marion in the Lafayette regional. Marion led Kokomo 5-2 in the last of the fourth when rain postponed the game until the following night. Todd Stroup, who relieved Ted Kramer with one in out in the first, was the winning pitcher. John Carrico was 3-for-4 in the game while Jack Titus, Andy Freshwater, and Harold Williams all had two hits. That gave Marion, coached by Steve Moritz, a 30-7 record.
Oak Hill's Bart Law and Marion's Johnny Jones helped the North to a 17-7 win over the South in the Indiana All-Star football game. Law, a quarterback, hit on all three of his pass attempts in the third quarter as he directed the North on a 65-yard scoring drive. Jones played cornerback and intercepted a pass by Blair Kiel.

One of the most popular features of Ken Hill's Sports Hotline was "Turn Back the Pages," in which he revisited past issues of the paper and reprinted notable stories. In honor of the Hotline and as a legacy to Hill, The News Herald asked him for permission to carry on the tradition of "Turn Back the Pages." Hill readily agreed. Look for it in our pages on a regular basis.—Editor gher finished second to Anderson's Scott Steger in the Indiana State Golf Open at the Golf Club of Indiana at Lebanon.

Carolyn Story averaged 182.50 to lead the list on the Marion Women's Bowling Association All-Stars for 1979-1980. Julia Collins was second with a 175.5

average, followed by Jackie Jones at 175.0, Peg Barnhart at 174.6 and Norma Meiboom at 174.5.
Robert Payne hit a two-run ground rule double in the last of the sixth as Exchange Club beat United Bank 6-4 in the finals of the Lincoln Field Little League tourney.

JB is through with the Browns

Each week I have at least 10 new people ask me about my Cleveland Browns.
Yes, for 60 years, from 1956 to 2015, I attended at least one Cleveland Browns football game per season. I saw the best, when the Browns played in 10 straight title games and won seven when I was a young kid. I saw the worst, when the Browns left Cleveland in 1996, and then won two Super Bowls as the Baltimore (Browns) Ravens.
But I made it official last year: No more season tickets. No more trips to the Dawg Pound. No more five-hour rides home after a loss.
I am done.
Here are the 10 reasons why.
1. 1-20 the last two seasons. Enough said.
2. This season, in the first 300 minutes played, the Browns led for a total of five minutes; that's it.
3. They will miss the NFL playoffs for the 15th straight season. No one else is close.

4. They have had 27 different starting quarterbacks in the last 19 years, an NFL record.
5. Three, that's 3, winning seasons in the last quarter of a century; yes, in 25 years.
6. The old Browns left town and immediately won two Super Bowls as the "Ravens."
7. The Browns have lost their season opener 14 years in a row, another NFL record.
8. In the franchise's first 28 seasons, they had only one losing season. Where did Otto Graham and Jim Brown go?
9. In the history of pro sports, no team with at least eight championships has ever collapsed like this.
10. There is no end in sight.
So there you have it. No more "How are your Browns doing?"
I went to one professional football game this year in person, and saw the GOAT—that's Tom Brady, the greatest of all time (GOAT), drive the Pats 91 yards in 60 seconds to beat Houston.
