Annual Fly/In Cruise/In at airport on Saturday

This coming weekend at the Marion Municipal Airport, one of the city's most beloved events will be returning to the Marion Municipal Airport: the Fly/In Cruise/In. The event will begin at 7 am on Saturday, August 31 and will run until 2 pm.

Since the event was established back in 1991, the Marion Municipal Airport has been full of various types of aircraft, vintage cars, truck, motorcycles, fire truck, military vehicles, and tractors every Labor Day weekend, providing a wholesome day of family-friendly fun.

Twenty-nine years ago, Mike Vanlandingham, Larry Williams, and Ray Johnson were looking to put together a fundraiser for the Marion High School Band Boosters, and the idea of the Fly/In Cruise/In was born. Ever since then, the event has raised money for the Band Boosters, Gil-ead Ministries, and, this year, the Grant County Rescue Mission.

Not only does the event help provide funds for worthy organizations, it helps bring the Marion community together.

"It's a great event for the community," longtime Marion resident and Giants' sports announcer Brad Woodring said. "[It] brings a

Wings Etc. restaurant being built on Bypass

by Alan Miller

Marion is getting another new Bypass restaurant.

Construction started earlier this month on a Wings Etc. Bar and Pub, which will be located near the northwest corner of 16th Street and Western Avenue. The property is adjacent to Tree of Life Bookstore and Abbey Coffee.

While there has been no official announcement, a map on the company website shows Marion as the site of a restaurant under construction. A building permit issued August 19 and posted at the construction site lists the owner as Wings Etc.

The company, which is based in Fort Wayne, did not respond to an email and phone call seeking additional information.

The Wings Etc. website describes the restaurant as "A chain pub known for chicken wings and a wide variety of sauces, with sports and on TV and video games."

The first Wings Etc. restaurant opened in 1994 in Mishawaka, Indiana, and the company began franchising in 2004. The company currently has 70 locations in 10 states, including about 40 in Indiana.

Five of the Indiana restaurants--in Wabash, Huntington, Peru, Kokomo and Bluffton--are located in counties that adjoin Grant County.

Community Foundation unveils mural for birthday

For the Community Foundation of Grant County's 35th birthday, the foundation gave a gift to Grant County: an interactive mural.

The foundation, which was established on August 20, 1984, worked with local artist Allison Mast-Saathoff to stain a fence in the alley near the foundation's office at 505 West Third Street over a six-day period.

On the fence, the foundation's staff painted 35 daisies, one to represent every year of the Foundation's existence.

In the 35 years, the foundation

This year the foundation's assets hit an all-time high of $27 million, so the team included 27 raindrops in the mural.

has given back more than $20 million to Grant County through grant-making efforts, so the mural includes 20 daisy leaves.

This year the foundation's assets hit an all-time high of $27 million, so the team included 27 raindrops in the mural.

"We had to take advantage of that silly tree that interfered with our fence installation," said Shelly Jones, development manager, "It's created the perfect spot for our turtle."

The mural also includes a ladybug for a bit of luck. Ladybugs with fewer than seven spots are considered luckier, so the team opted for five spots, one for each Community Foundation current staff member.

A final element of mural is a caterpillar and monarch butterfly, which, according to a press release, represents the metamorphosis that the Foundation has experienced over the last 35 years.

"Thank you, Grant County, for the success we've had over these many years. We couldn't accomplish anything without your dedication, generosity, and steadfast love for this place we call home," said Dawn Brown, president of the foundation.

DOING GOOD

Indiana Wesleyan University has named Teresa Campbell, the director of the St. Martin Community Center in downtown Marion, as the 2019 Tony Maidenber Award winner. The prestigious prize is named for the former Marion mayor and Indiana state senator.

Campbell earned the award for her longtime service in helping the poor and needy to become self sustaining.

IWU has been giving the award annually since 2002, when Maidenber was the first recipient.

Another deserving recipient of a prestigious award last week was Carol Sector, who was named a Legend of the Club by the Boys & Girls Club at their annual dinner at the Roseburg Event Center. Sector is a long-serving board member and supporter of the Club and its members.

The event raised more than $20,000 to help the Club serve children for another year.

While we're mentioning fundraising dinners, the Family Service Society last week raised more than $50,000 at its Circle of Friends luncheon, held at IWU. The Society serves a variety of needs in Marion with a strong team of professionals, and their sold-out luncheon highlighted their service to our community.

The Grant County Community Foundation celebrated 35 years of good service last week. The foundation now has in excess of $27 million in assets, and over the years has awarded more than $20 million in grants to individuals and organizations. This is indeed good work and something that we should all applaud.

Rise above temptation, part 2

James 1:13-18

Last week's article gave us some great insight on how to rise above temptation. Let's take a moment to review what we talked about, because your memory may be as bad as mine. Verse 18 uses the phrase, "that we should be." Verse 19 tells us three things to do: be swift to hear, be slow to speak, and be slow to wrath. These three things teach us the significance of self-control. We went on to list five words that give us the pre-requisites to self-control: patience, prayer, faith, humility, and love. What a list!

As we listen to the words of James 1:13-18 we must realize that temptation is always present in life (verse 13a). The word "tempt" is an interesting word that means to entice to do wrong. The means of temptation never change. We all deal with certain issues in life that are tempting to us. My temptations could be different from yours, but we all have them, and it doesn't matter where you are in life.

Temptation entices us to do wrong by three things. The first step is a promise. The devil is a specialist at painting rosy pictures, getting us to see a wonderful promise attached. We must realize that the devil will never carry through with any promise he makes. The second step is pleasure. Hebrews 11:25 tells us that the pleasures of sin are enjoyable for a season. The third step is to persuade us to give in.

Our Heavenly Father tells us in James 1:13 that temptation is never prompted by God. He tells us in verse two that we should count it all joy when we fall prey to various trials. These trials are tests from above. The testing will inevitably help us be stronger in our faith. Tests come to see what we know and what we have learned.

Temptation follows a consistent pattern (verses 14, 15). This Scripture gives us three elements that contribute to temptation.

The first one is the bait. This is usually something external. It becomes the object of our interest. It resembles looking at a catalog. In the book of 1 John, John tells us in chapter 2:15-17 something very similar. In verse 16 he says, "For all that is in the world, the lust of the flesh, and the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life, is not of the Father, but is of the world."

The second element of temptation is the desire. Lust always rests in the victim's heart. I have always believed that what is on the inside will always come out. Jeremiah 17:9 tells us the heart is deceitful, and desperately wicked.

The third element is the allurement. At this point we are carried away and enticed by this temptation.

The battle for Spiritual living is won and lost in the mind. James tells us that temptation flourishes on inconsistent thinking. "A double-minded man is unstable in all his ways" (James 1:8). It is important for us to be grounded in God's Word, the Bible. Now, don't get me wrong, we will never be perfect in this life. However, with the help of the Lord and the Bible, we can rise above temptations and live victorious lives.

The choice seems pretty rational to me. I am only going through this life once, so I want to do my best and live for Him. He gives us all the choice of how we will live. What kind of life do you want? There is only one life worth living, and that is for our Heavenly Father.

Railing against the changing of a Christmas tradition

My exceedingly old and dear friend Morton Marcus occasionally lets his enthusiasm for whatever possesses him at the moment overwhelm his judgment.

It has happened yet again. Not on a critical issue, mind you; nothing like reapportionment or gerrymandering or the relevance of mathematics to economics. Nothing like that. This time it is simple ignorance of the calendar. Or rather, getting people excited about Christmas in August.

Once was assigned as a reporter to cover a school superintendent who believed you could do harm near anything to the schools as long as you did it in July. He believed—and he was just about right on this—that people only care about the schools when schools are in session. Thus he disposed of several building principals at a mid-July school board meeting and named their replacements that very day.

By the opening of the school year six weeks later, all, or at least most, was forgotten and forgiven. Anyway, Dr. Marcus is unwittingly—I assume unwittingly because I assume he wants his readers to care as passionately as he does about these things—unwittingly whining, lamenting the loss of holiday lighting at a time when thoughts of holidays and sugar plums are light years away.

Start at the beginning. For probably 25 years, maybe longer, a treat at the holiday season has been the display of Christmas and holiday scenes in lights at the Reynolds farm equipment dealership just south of Ind. 37 and 131st Street in Fishers. It could also be seen from I-69 just a couple of blocks to the east.

What started out as some strands of lights on John Deere implements—tractors, combines, mowers—on the sales lot at the dealership, became a very big deal, ultimately causing traffic congestion on Ind. 37 during the evening hours in late December.

That all changed a couple of years ago when the Reynolds family vacated that location and moved to a new, larger building several miles away on U.S. 31 north of Carmel. The Harley-Davidson motorcycle folks bought the Fishers location and built a new and elegant motorcycle showroom there.

The holiday lights vanished, and now we find out that they are being moved a couple of miles north and west to Conner Prairie, the outdoor educational museum of 19th century life in Indiana. There isn't a person in central Indiana under age 50 who hasn't made at least one school field trip to Conner Prairie. The Reynolds family, wanting to continue the holiday tradition, donated the lights to Conner Prairie.

Dr. Marcus is somehow outraged by this. Listen to him:

“It's not nothing,” he said. “The Reynolds tractor Christmas light show is moving to Conner Prairie. I'm allowed to complain, not about a private company making a big donation to a not-for-profit history museum, but about the privatization of what used to be a public event.”

He is correct. Viewing the lights from the road was free.

Conner Prairie, like all not-for-profit museums, is struggling for dollars and likely will charge an admission.

“Exactly!” the brash economist said in his recent newspaper column. “Just like the appropriation of Christmas lights by Newfields, the renamed home of the Indianapolis Museum of Art. We used to drive around neighborhoods to see private displays on homes, designed to best the efforts of others on the same street. Now institutions expect you to pay to walk!”

This led him into some sort of rant about free enterprise and communism and competition between communities that he calls “dependencies of Indianapolis,” places like Noblesville and Fishers and Zionsville and Carmel and Westfield.

This, however, does not address the fundamental question of timing.

Will people driving along Ind. 37 and I-69 on a hot August night care that the lights are gone? Is it too late?

Will people attending, say, Symphony on the Prairie concerts at Conner Prairie on a hot August night care that the lights are coming in December?

We shall see, Morton. We shall see. May I offer you some plum pudding?

Giants top Panthers before record crowd

by Sean Douglas

After a year of planning, preparation, and building excitement, two of Grant County's top football teams competed against one another for the first time in front of one of the biggest crowds ever to assemble for a football game at Dick Lootens Stadium on Friday night.

The Marion Giants are fresh off their best season in 28 years, having won their first sectional and regional crowns since 1990. The Eastbrook Panthers, a perennial powerhouse, finished as the Class 2A state runner-up for the second time in three seasons last November, and have won 50 games, three regional championships, and two semi-state championships in the last four years.

The game lived up to its billing. Khalid Stamps scored three second-half touchdowns, while Isak Lagerkvist and JD Fagan were out of the lineup in Marion's season opener against Fort Wayne Snider and their presence was sorely missed on both ends of the pitch. Their return to the field Saturday night made a world of difference. Fagan helped the offense run smoothly, Lagerkvist locked down the back line, and the Marion Giants earned their first win of the season with a 3-1 win over the Eastbrook Panthers.

"With Isak back and with JD back, we were able to do more stuff with the ball," Marion Head Coach Jorge Berry said. "We were able to control the game throughout."

Fagan showed up on the score sheet in the seventh minute, when he placed a perfect free kick in front of Kevin Guy, who rocketed the ball over the head of Eastbrook goalkeeper Sam Spigal for a 1-0 Marion lead.

"We are very strong technically," Berry said. "[The first goal] was a perfect example. It was a well-struck ball, and Kevin made a great run."

"They have a lot of speed. They moved the ball around really well," Eastbrook Head Coach Adam Hallis said. "I think you saw a good team out there in Marion. We had our chances, and didn't put them away...They made it difficult."

Kollin Ashbrooke, a former Oak Hill Golden Eagle, continued his strong start to the season early in the second half, heading a ball in the net from just outside the box to give the Giants a 2-0 advantage. "He has two goals in two games, and it's all effort," Berry said. "That's what he brings."

Giants drop opener to Snider, bounce back

Heading into their first game of the season against Fort Wayne Snider, the Marion Giants were without some key players.

Senior captain Isak Lagerkvist was serving a one-game suspension for a red card he picked up in Marion's final game against Oak Hill last year. JD Fagan, another captain, took a soccer ball to the face during the warmup period and was forced to sit out due to concussion protocol. Starting goalkeeper Malik Smith also missed the contest due to injury, forcing Garrett Scher, normally a midfielder, to shift to the net.

After a scoreless 60 minutes to start the contest, the two teams combined for seven goals in the final 20, as Snider took advantage of Marion's key absences in a 5-2 triumph.

Neither team was able to establish much of a rhythm in the first half. The Giants did create some scoring opportunities, recording four shots on goal, but were unable to put any balls past Snider goalkeeper Zach Tyndall.

Those missed chances would come back to haunt the Giants in the second half.

After a scoreless opening 20 minutes of the second period, Snider was able to put one past Scher with 19:45 remaining. Scher, who up to that point had made some remarkable saves, including one of the diving variety at point blank range, came a bit too far out of the net. Snider senior Donaldo Pacheco took advantage, placing the ball in the bottom left corner to give the Panthers a 1-0 lead.

Pacheco added three more goals in the final 10:13 of the contest, and Ross Graber added an insurance tally with less than a minute remaining.

Snider dominated the second half, collecting 14 shots and giving the Marion defense all they could handle. "It was a little bit of fatigue," Marion Head Coach Jorge Berry said of the goal barrage in the second half. "They were subbing a little more frequently, and they had more refreshed players. We started getting frustrated, and it showed. It's something we will work on. We will get it together."

Despite the disadvantages the Giants faced, other players stepped up. Kollin Ashbrooke scored Marion's first goal of the season late in the second half off a great feed from freshman Alex Powell. Powell then added a goal of his own, giving him a goal and an assist in his first varsity action.

"We put some other players in, and we saw some good things from them," Berry said. "I thought our freshmen, [Zane Scott and Alex Powell] did extremely well. And Kollin—here's a kid who was cut from Oak Hill's program. He's just working really, really hard, and you can see it."

While the Giants gave up five goals, Scher performed well in the net for the Giants. At a position in which he has had minimal experience, he stood tall, making several huge stops throughout the contest.

"He did really well," Berry said of Scher. "He made some really good saves. Until Malik is healthy, Garrett is going to fit the bill."

While the Giants came out on the losing end, this is a veteran-laden group, and they, along with Berry, will not hang their heads. Instead, they are already anticipating the next challenge. "We will be ready to play Saturday against Eastbrook."

After their home opener was pushed back a day due to inclement weather, the Eastbrook Panthers began the season with a 3-0 triumph over the Wabash Apaches on Wednesday evening. Collin Burman scored twice, while freshman Sam Olsen notched his first varsity goal in the second half.

"We started off strong. We scored in the first three or four minutes," Eastbrook Head Coach Adam Hallis said. "As we got into the game, we settled down...The guys were able to show their skill and play."

Sam Spigal recorded the shutout for Eastbrook, making two saves. "He's right there; he's a good keeper," Hallis said of Spigal. "He came up big. He's got some great distribution. He made some good saves."

Foulk resumes scoring touch for Panthers

Last fall, Eastbrook star Sarah Foulk put together a season for the ages. Scoring a Grant County record of 51 goals, she dazzled both her teammates and the Panthers' fans with her talent and her humble demeanor. If Tuesday's season opener against Oak Hill was any indication, the Panthers' striker does not show any signs of slowing down this season.

Foulk scored five goals on the night, four of which came in the second half, and assisted on two others as the Panthers began the 2019 season with a dominant 8-0 triumph over the Golden Eagles.

"The thing that is awesome about Sarah is that she is 100 percent the real deal," Eastbrook Head Coach Jamie Hallis said of her star striker. "She's incredible. She works 110 percent all the time. We all know she can score...however, she is always looking for the best scoring opportunity. She had several assists because she laid great passes across the middle and found her teammates. She really just sees the front part of the field better than anyone I've ever [coached.] I appreciate not only her goal scoring, but she is very creative and creates opportunities for our whole team."

Eastbrook's victory was a complete team effort. Offensively, the Panthers clicked at every level of the field, making crisp pass after crisp pass to spearhead their relentless attack. Unselfish play throughout led to multiple scoring opportunities, and the Panthers took full advantage.

"We've been working hard, especially on passing," Foulk said. "We do passing drills every practice for a long time, and you could tell today that it paid off."

Throughout the offseason, the Panthers focused heavily on movement both on and off the ball, making an already potent offense more difficult to defend. "I told them that I couldn't tell them how many times I had goosebumps watching them tonight," Hallis said. "When I see a good string of passes, especially when it ends in a goal, it's so fun to watch."

After the two longtime rivals worked out their first game jitters, the Panthers began to assume control. In the 12th minute, Rachel Manning scored Eastbrook's first goal of the season off a feed from Foulk. Naomi Diller notched her first tally in the 24th minute off a laser from 20 yards out, and Foulk added her first goal less than a minute later off a precise pass from Sophia Diller.

Eastbrook outshot Oak Hill 13-4 in the first half, which included 11 shots on goal.

Armed with a 3-0 advantage, the Panthers did not let up in the second half. In the first 10:04 of the frame, Eastbrook added three more goals—two from Foulk and another from McKim—to take a 6-0 lead. Foulk's second tally in that time frame came off an incredible feed from Danals, who really moved the ball well throughout the contest.

"Danals' passes were beautiful, especially in the second half," Foulk said. "It was rough in the first half because we were playing slower, but once we sped it up, [we got better.] No one was marking [Danals], so she was able to come at them, draw the defenders, and play it through. All I had to do is dink it in."

Foulk scored Eastbrook's final two goals, both unassisted, to secure the 8-0 victory for the Panthers.

Gabby Scott recorded the shutout for Eastbrook, making three saves. Eastbrook's defense, after allowing just four Oak Hill shots in the first half, blanked the Golden Eagles in the second half.

Despite being shut out, the Golden Eagles battled hard. "We are doing a lot of building in different positions," Oak Hill Head Coach Alex Kenworthy said. "We lost a majority of our defense from last year, including our goalie [of] four years. We have a lot of learning curves."

Early on, their offense found some openings, and both Carlee Biddle and Sarah Tucci were able to create scoring opportunities, and, while they gave up eight goals, Oak Hill's young defensive core, which includes defenders Ruth McDivitt and Colbie Furnish and goalkeeper Sierra Bakehorn, made several strong stops throughout the course of the match.

"We had some really good passing combinations, our goalies did some really good things, and our defense did some really good things," Kenworthy said. "They marked well, they contained. I was proud of them. For our first game, against that Eastbrook team, I was really proud of them."

For the Panthers, it is only one game, and anything can happen between now and the postseason. But on Tuesday night, they gave everyone a glimpse of how special they can be. "I feel great after tonight," Hallis concluded. "I was really nervous coming in. It's a blessing, but it's hard having a lot of pressure and a lot of expectations. I know how much these girls can do, and it was so exciting to see them put it together and show everyone on the field tonight."

In other soccer action:

Panthers rout Delta
The Eastbrook Panthers put together another dominant performance Thursday in a 9-2 rout of the Delta Eagles. Sarah Foulk scored five more times against Delta. Natalie Danals, Rachel Manning, Chloe McDaniel, and Johnen McKim also scored, while Danals and McDaniel each picked up a pair of assists.

"Especially in the first half, the girls were just finding each other," Eastbrook Head Coach Jamie Hallis said. "I think they are moving really well together... They are really enjoying finding each other and passing, and they did that really well."

While the Panthers did give up a pair of goals, their defense, particularly Naomi Diller, did an excellent job of defending Delta star Addie Chester. She finished with just one goal and one assist in the match.

"We knew coming in that she is a very talented player," Hallis said. "So defensively, we weren't sure what tonight was going to look like, and it took us a little bit to figure it out. We ended up having to man-mark her because she is that good. So I have to give a shout out to Naomi, because she had the rough job of trying to slow her down a bit."

Marion opens with win
Despite falling behind early against South Adams in their season opener last Tuesday evening, the Giants used four goals by Kitts, together with a strong defensive effort in the second half, to defeat the Starfires 6-2.

Kitts started the scoring for the Giants, but two straight goals from the Starfires gave South Adams a 2-1 lead with 25 minutes left in the first half. However, Kitts would continue to fill the scoresheet, collecting three more goals in that 25-minute time frame to help Marion regain the lead for good. Aliya Willhide also scored for the Giants, giving them a 5-2 halftime advantage.

Freshman Kaylin Burke scored her first varsity goal in the second half to secure the four-goal triumph.

"At first, I wasn't very pleased. Everything we worked on the day before we were not doing," Marion Head Coach Jacob Boggs said. "Falling behind...it finally woke us up, and we started playing our game. It was a good start to the season."

As a team, the Giants finished with 13 shots. Kitts led the way with seven, while Willhide, Burke, and Claire Hendricks each recorded two apiece.

Goalkeeper Olivia Lindsay, a transfer from Wabash, was solid in her Marion debut, making two saves.

Giants shut out Arsenal Tech
Playing in their first NCC game on Thursday night, the Marion Giants shut out Indianapolis Arsenal Tech 5-0 on Thursday night.

After scoring four goals against South Adams in the season opener, Taylor Kitts recorded a hat trick against Tech, giving her seven tallies in the Giants' first two contests.

Despite the win, Head Coach Jacob Boggs believes that his team could yards on 13 carries, while Marion quarterback Keshaun Taylor finished with 63 yards rushing on nine carries. JK Thomas, after leaving the game with an injury scare in the first half, came back after halftime to finish with six carries for 47 yards and a touchdown.

Marion's veteran offensive line paved the way all evening, especially in the second half, to keep Eastbrook's talented but inexperienced defense off balance. "All of those backs are just outstanding," Eastbrook Head Coach Jeff Adamson said. "We thought one of the things we'd be able to match up well was our defensive line against [their] offensive line. At times, it was okay and at other times we just got pushed around. Their offensive line did an outstanding job."

The Giants' defense put forth an encouraging effort against Adamson's dangerous option offense. Marion held Eastbrook under 200 yards of total offense and did not allow any Panther to rush for more than 100 yards.

"There were a few times where we had some fatigue...but we definitely [defended well,]" Chambers said. "That's a phenomenal offense. You're not fighting for a state championship every year without being really, really good."

Wyatt Stephenson led Eastbrook with 80 yards on 30 carries, while Justin Starr finished with nine carries for 41 yards and a touchdown.

"[We had] breakdowns that really hurt us," Adamson said. "They are just so quick defensively and so disciplined. I don't think they get enough credit for their defense overall, but also [for how] disciplined they are on their assignments."

After both teams went three-and-out to start the contest, Marion opened the scoring late in the first quarter. Taylor was the star of the possession, picking up 17 yards on a scramble and hitting wide receiver Jordan Fuller for 35 yards on a third-and-nine. Four plays later, on fourth-and-goal, Fuller capped off a nine-play, 58-yard scoring drive with a one-yard touchdown catch on fourth down, giving the Giants a 7-0 lead.

The Panthers answered with a methodical, lengthy drive early in the second quarter, running 22 plays and taking nearly eight minutes off the clock. Stephenson received the bulk of the carries, eight to be exact, and punched it in from one yard out to tie the game at 7-7.

It did not take long for the Giants to regain the lead for good.

With 3:12 to go in the half, Thomas came back into the game at running back and made his presence felt. He recorded a 29-yard run on the second play of the drive before a 21-yard touchdown scamper three plays later gave the Giants a 14-7 advantage at halftime.

That touchdown drive provided all the momentum that Marion needed, and it carried them the rest of the evening.

While Taylor and Thomas are tremendous talents, Stamps is an excellent running back in his own right, and he proved it in the second half, scoring three touchdowns on three straight possessions. "He played great," Chambers said of Stamps. "It's definitely something we knew we had last year. It's just that 1-2 punch that we've got back there."

Stamps' first touchdown came from 61 yards out midway through the third quarter. His second was a 62-yard run. His third came in the red zone, a nine-yard scamper early in the fourth quarter.

"We came out strong," Stamps said. "Coach told us what to do, and I just listened to what Coach told me to do. We got the job done, and I just did what I had to do. We work hard on the offense. We work hard on the chemistry. And we showed it on the field."

The Panthers added two more scores--an 89-yard kickoff return by Zeke Binkerd and a three-yard touchdown run by Starr--but never threatened the Giants' lead.

Despite the defeat, Adamson believes that playing against a team of Marion's caliber will help the Panthers grow as the season progresses. "It's going to be really good for them," Adamson said. "We're not going to see [another] team with a stable of backs like that. There were some really good lessons for them tonight. I really think we will be a better team for having played this game. We are going to see some good teams in our conference, and we are going to see a good team next week, but none of them have as much team speed as this team. It's just going to help us prepare down the road."

Marion and Eastbrook's first ever-meeting was a rousing success, and it will be a must-watch matchup in the years to come.

"I think it's great for not just both of these schools, but I think for all of Grant County football," Adamson said. "It was a great atmosphere. It felt like a play-off game with the crowd, and it was exciting. I wish we would have done some things later in the game to make it a little more competitive down to the very end, but this was a great game."

In other Grant County football action last week:

Mississinewa defeats Pendleton

Playing against a strong Pendleton Heights team on the road, the Mississinewa Indians put together a solid performance on both sides of the ball, defeating the Arabians by a score of 26-21 on Friday night.

"Just watching Pendleton Heights from their film...we knew their defense was going to be really physical," Mississinewa Head Coach Curt Funk said. "They returned a lot of starters on defense, and they returned quite a [number] of starters on offense as well. They were really physical, but I thought our kids did a good job of matching that physicality this year. They had great hustle and effort all night long."

Mississinewa's running game was clicking all evening, as Cade Campbell, Carson Campbell, and Kyler Funk each recorded a rushing touchdown against the Arabians.

"Our offense did a great job," Funk said. "We came into the game with seven different personnel packages. We got into our power I set and had a lot of success early with it, so we just stuck with our heavy run game sets. I thought our offensive line did a great job of opening up holes for our running backs, and our running backs did a good job of reading their blocks. I was really pleased with our offensive production."

Carson Campbell also recorded a pick-six, and the Mississinewa defense was efficient in its first action of the season. "Our defense did a good job of flying to the football," Funk said. "The mistakes we made are correctable. We had some missed alignments. You're going to have that in the first game of the year...but the effort was there all night long with our defense."

After a solid opening night victory, Funk and the Indians will look to keep improving heading into next week's showdown with New Haven. "We just have to work on the little things," Funk said. "We had too many penalties and too many penalty yards. We have to clean that up. On special teams, we gave up a kick return for a touchdown. That has to get cleaned up. We missed two PATs, and that has to get cleaned up."

"Offensive discipline has to be improved, and then our special teams, we have to do a better job there."

Golden Eagles fall to Eastern

In their first game of the season, the Oak Hill Golden Eagles battled hard from beginning to end. Clay McCorkle threw a touchdown to Kian Hite, and the defense played at a high level for most of the contest. The Golden Eagles were unable to find the end zone, though, and the Eastern Comets pulled away in the fourth quarter, securing a 23-7 triumph on Friday night.

"It was a good defensive game on both sides," Oak Hill Head Coach Bud Ozmun said. "But in the end, a very experienced Eastern team and [its] offensive line wore us down in the fourth quarter which led to a couple of late scores. I felt good about our defensive play. We gave up some yards, but up until late in the fourth quarter, we were able to keep them out of the end zone."

Oak Hill's running game struggled to get going against the Comets, as Hite, Blake Fox, and Ryan Fernandes combined for just 22 yards on 17 carries. McCorkle put together some decent stats, completing eight passes for 81 yards, but was plagued by three crucial drops and three overthrows of open receivers.

Furthermore, the Golden Eagles never had great field position at any point in the contest, which constrained what they could do offensively.

"We were pinned pretty deep most of the ball game every time we took possession, and that limits you," Ozmun said. "It changes the way you attack the game offensively, and we just never got ourselves out of a hole. That's a credit to what [Eastern] did to us."

"Overall, we definitely could have played better offensively, and, in the end, I just feel like they wore us out."

It was only one game, and there is still plenty of season, but Ozmun and the Golden Eagles know they still have a lot of work to accomplish. "We should be a better ball club than what we were last night," Ozmun said. "The rushing game has to be a focus this week, but we [also] need to improve our mental game. We've got to be 11 strong, and that has to be a focus as well."

Panthers sweep Raiders

In her first game as a varsity coach, Bailie Havens emerged as a winner, as the Eastbrook Panthers easily dispatched the Southern Wells Raiders in three sets (25-16, 25-6, 25-9) last Tuesday evening.

"Honestly, the biggest thing was that we were ready to play," Havens said. "I went into the locker room to start, and they just wanted to get out there and go."

Six players came away with at least one kill in the match, and overall, the group performed well as a unit, not simply as separate entities. "Nobody had a bad game; everyone was on it tonight," Havens said. "I had Kayleigh Gross playing six rotations...she had five aces for us, which is pretty impressive for a freshmen. Brianna Stepp had an amazing game tonight. She led us in kills and digs. Blessing Geisler—this is her first year playing varsity—I think she did a really nice job as well. The whole team did pretty well, but those three did a fantastic job."

Stepp finished the contest with nine kills and 10 digs, while Ava Walters dished out 10 assists in the season-opening triumph.

Eastbrook swept by Adams Central

The Panthers, coming off of their season-opening triumph over Southern Wells, were unable to keep their momentum going on Thursday, falling in straight sets to the Adams Central Jets (14-25, 14-25, 13-25).

Adams Central took control of the match from the start, and the Panthers were unable to find any kind of rhythm in the defeat. "I think, honestly, [Adams Central] had a faster offense," Eastbrook Head Coach Bailie Havens said. "They set the tempo, and we followed, but didn't really match up. I think we were a step behind the whole, and once they got a couple of points...they put a few balls down and we kind of gave up after that."

Despite the loss, however, Havens was proud of how her young team responded to adversity, particularly Ava Walters, who constantly encouraged her teammates and showcased her leadership. "Ava—she was voted a captain—and she is still a sophomore. She remained a leader even though we were down," Havens said. "She stayed [in the game] and tried to keep everyone's spirits high as we kept going."

Lexi Binkerd led the Eastbrook offense with three kills, while Blessing Geisler led the defense with eight digs and Walters dished out 10 assists.

Panthers go 1-3 in Invitational

In the North Miami Invitational on Saturday, the Eastbrook Panthers came away with one win in four matches. They suffered 2-0 losses to Northwestern, Rochester, and Oak Hill, while picking up a 2-0 triumph over Caston.

"Regardless of [the fact] that we lost a couple of games, they stayed in it," Eastbrook Head Coach Bailie Havens said. "Some of the [matches] didn't end the way that we wanted them too, but they kept good attitudes, which I was thoroughly impressed with."

Despite their 1-3 finish on the day, Havens was pleased with how her team continued to maintain a unified effort throughout each match. "I think they are a close enough team that they are able to work together and [work] through [struggles,] especially with the few older leaders that we have," Havens said.

Lexi Binkerd led the Eastbrook offense, finishing with 17 kills in the four matches, while Ava Walter dished out 12 assists. Brianna Stepp led the defensive effort with 18 digs.

Jay County defeats Argylls

Despite a close match last Tuesday evening, Head Coach Kayla Jump's debut went down as a loss, as the Madison-Grant Argylls were swept by the Jay County Patriots in three sets (25-20, 26-28, 20-25).

The Patriots used size to their advantage, clogging up the middle of the net and allowing the Argylls to find consistent offense. "[Jay County] is a really good blocking team," Jump said. "One thing I said before we even went out there was do not hit into the block, and it's almost like the block was the magnet. We hit into the block a lot. We struggled with that."

However, the Argylls showcased plenty of positives in their season-opening match. Several players made significant contributions across the stat sheet, and their improvement in multiple areas, particularly in passing, was noticeable.

"I saw some people that didn't have a lot of varsity experience [play] pretty well," Jump said. "Azmae Turner, she played middle on JV last year and hardly got any time on varsity last year. She is kind of coming into her own athletically, and she did some stuff tonight that shows her athletic ability."

Grace Holmberg and Katie Garringer co-led the Argylls in both kills (six) and aces (three), while Alia Whitton dished out 12 assists. McKenna Lugar led the Madison-Grant defense with seven digs.

Argylls swept by Pendleton

After a tough match against Jay County to start their 2019 season, the Madison-Grant Argylls faced another difficult challenge on Thursday night against a talented Pendleton Heights team. A veteran group, the Arabians controlled the match from beginning to end, defeating the Argylls in straight sets (14-25, 11-25, 16-25).

"They've got some great athletes, especially some great middle hitters," M-G Head Coach Kayla Jump said. "We did not play particularly well enough to make sure that they could not pass the ball. They [ran] whatever offense they wanted. We mixed up our lineup, tried some different things, tried to cause a little chaos on their side, but they prevailed through that. They did a really nice job tonight against us."

Despite the defeat, Grace Holmberg played well for the second straight contest, leading the Argylls in both kills (four), while co-leading in digs (five) with McKenna Lugar. Alia Whitton dished out eight assists and recorded two aces, while Azmae Turner came away with two blocks.

Argylls win Invitational

Hosting their own tournament on Saturday, the Argylls emerged victorious, defeating the Bluffton Tigers, the Adams Central Jets, and the Eastern Comets to win the Argyll Invitational.

The Argylls achieved 2-0 victories over Bluffton and Eastern, and came away with a three-set triumph over Adams Central.

Giants drop opener

In their season opener last Tuesday night, the Marion Giants' new-look roster traveled to Northfield to take on the Norsemen, and, while there are already clear signs of improvement, they failed to translate those gains into a win, as they were swept in three sets (13-25, 17-25, 16-25).

"Our serve-receive was a little rough," Marion Head

Coach Larry Hinshaw said. "[Also, Northfield] was solid in the front row, so it gave us fits [as we] tried to figure out how to stop them."

While the Giants are a much better team on paper, it still takes time to create chemistry. In the early stages of the season, they are continuing to mesh. "We are still trying to figure out our cohesion between all our transfers and new people," Hinshaw said. "It was a rough learning experience for us, and hopefully we learn from it."

"The physical part [of the game] will come. It's just figuring out working together, competing with each other, [and] learning each other's strengths and weaknesses. That will take time. So as long as we aren't getting frustrated with that, we will be okay. We are seeing [where the offense] can go, and on our defense, [we see] that we can go toe-to-toe with good hitters."

Ra'Shaya Kyle led the Marion offense with six kills, while Mississinewa transfer Kirsten Lockwood finished with four terminations. Miranda Riggs and Kaliyah Jones each recorded three kills. Riggs and Aylivia Mellon led the defense with 11 digs each.

great feed from Bryan Popoca, but Guy iced the contest less than four minutes later, scoring his second goal of the game off of a Zane Scott assist. Garrett Scher, playing his second game as a goal-keeper, gave up just one goal and made five saves.

"An early season loss like this—you hate seeing it—but it wakes some guys up," Hallis said. "This year, [our] guys need to play more intensely."

Giants rout Columbia City

After an impressive win over Eastbrook on Saturday, the Marion Giants put forth their best effort of the young season with a 9-1 rout of the Columbia City Eagles on Monday night.

The Giants' offense was unremitting, attacking the Columbia City defense from start to finish. "We really pressed them up high, and that just tired them down," Marion Head Coach Jorge Berry said. "We were relentless in our pressure."

Kevin Guy scored two more goals on Monday, bringing his total to four, while Alex Powell also scored twice for the Giants. Kyle Coryea, Zane Scott, JD Fagan, Mario Garcia, and Isak Lagerkvist also recorded a tally each for Marion.

Indians begin with draw

In their first game of the 2019 season, the Mississinewa Indians looked strong in the opening 40 minutes, scoring two goals and taking that advantage into halftime, but the Wabash Apaches battled back, scoring twice in the second half to secure a 2-2 draw on Thursday evening.

"We were a team of two halves," Mississinewa Head Coach Jared Reel said. "We moved the ball well and communicated great in the first half. We had several chances to score but just couldn't capitalize. In the second half we didn't have any legs left. Our bench was very short due to injuries, and we just couldn't do anything."

Holden Brown and Noah Drake scored for Mississinewa, while Jack Tarpein and Evan Yoder each recorded an assist.

Austin Long and Cody Nantz both saw time in goal for the Indians. Long made five saves, while Nantz came away with one.

Indians dominate Tri-Central

Playing against a Tri-Central team with only 13 players, the Mississinewa Indians rode a dominant effort to their first win of the 2019 season, defeating the Trojans by a score of 12-0. "We passed the ball well and were able to keep the ball on target in the first half and wore down their defense," Mississinewa Head Coach Jared Reel said. "Tri-Central was tired in the second half."

Colin Yoder finished with six goals in the contest, while Holden Brown added four. Evan Yoder and Andrew Purvis also scored for the Indians. Of Mississinewa's 12 goals, eight of them came off of assists. Noah Drake recorded three helpers, while Brown, Colin Yoder, Cameron Sizemore, Karver Jones, and Josh O'Connell each had one.

Golden Eagles start with shutout

The Oak Hill Golden Eagles' season got off to a strong start last Tuesday as they dominated the Tipton Blue Devils in a 9-0 triumph. With the Blue Devils playing a man down the entire match, the Golden Eagles took advantage, scoring early and often and sustaining consistent pressure all evening.

"I thought that we did a good job of playing our game," Oak Hill Head Coach Joel Garverick said. "Being patient in possession, playing simple passes, stretching the defense, and then attacking."

Gavin Holz recorded a hat trick in Oak Hill's blowout triumph, while Mark Sevier and Dalian Leach each potted a pair of goals. Thommy Seybold and Hank VanBibber also scored for the Golden Eagles.

The Oak Hill defense was stingy throughout, keeping the Blue Devils at bay. "The main thing we were able to do was to use our defenders to build with possession out of the back and not let Tipton have too much of the ball," Garverick said.

Oak Hill and Huntington North play to scoreless tie

The Golden Eagles played well on Thursday against a Huntington North squad, which historically has been one of the top programs in the state. While Oak Hill's defense was stingy once again, its offense was unable to capitalize in a 0-0 tie.

"I was impressed with our competitive fire. I was impressed with our ability to rise to the moment," Oak Hill Head Coach Joel Garverick said. "We had some scoring chances. We definitely had shots and put shots on goal and tested their keeper."

Here in the early stages of the campaign, the Golden Eagles' strength has been their defense. Sam Boyer has recorded two straight shut-outs in net, while the players in front of him, including Jaylin Smith and Thommy Seybold, have played well.

"Our defense—we made a few changes," Garverick said. "Not necessarily in personnel, but tactically and how we are defending as a team."

Golden Eagles fall to Argos

On Saturday afternoon the Oak Hill Golden Eagles lost their first match of the season, dropping a 4-1 decision to a perennially strong Argos team. The Golden Eagles took a 1-0 lead on Gavin Holz's goal.

"At the start of the game, we played pretty well," Oak Hill Head Coach Joel Garverick said. "But as the game wore on, we started to lose a little bit of mental focus. We started to show some fatigue...and Argos made us pay for that."

Go watch some county football

Well, one week is in the books and now I can't wait for week number two.

What a start Grant County football got off to last Friday night with a standing room only crowd watching Marion get by Eastbrook 35-19.

The game lived up to all the hype and now it's on to week two, with Marion traveling down to take on Lawrence North and Eastbrook playing its second straight road contest at always-tough Delta. Both games may be close, but I see both the Giants and Panthers taking care of business this Friday.

Ole Miss is the team I'm really interested in after its hard-earned win over Pendleton Heights, 26-21. Now the Indians, with a huge O-line, will try to get to 2-0 on the season playing at home against New Haven, a game Coach Funk and company should win.

The other two interesting partners in crime in Grant County are Madison-Grant and Oak Hill.

The Argylls fought hard all night long before finally losing to always-tough Tipton, 19-6. Now they play the same Eastern team that won over Oak Hill in week number one, 23-7. In that game the Eagles just couldn't get over the hump against a bitter rival, but this Friday night they try to get to 1-1 hosting Southwood in an always interesting game.

So this Friday, with Marion and Eastbrook on the road, head out to Ole Miss, or M-G or Oak Hill, and take in week number two of the 2019 IHSAA football season. Or, for Giant and Panther fans, head out to Marion County to see the number one-ranked Giants or to Delta to see the Jeff Adamson-coached Panthers, who were state runners-up just last year.

Yep, I think this is going to be a fun-filled season, and do remember next Friday, September 6, the North Central Conference and Central Indiana Conference football wars start for real.

It looks like a great year for Grant County pigskin fans, so take in a game this Friday night: Marion at Lawrence North, Eastbrook at Delta, New Haven at Mississinewa, Eastern at Madison-Grant, and Southwood at Oak Hill.

Wouldn't it be great to see the county go 5-0?
