Kuczora spotted an ad that had been posted in an IU academic building by the Grant-Blackford Mental Health Clinic, seeking someone to crunch U.S. Census numbers for a Federal grant application.

"Fortunately, numbers have never been a challenge for me," he said. "I applied and got the job. When I came to Marion, I

At the end of the summer, Kuczora was offered a job as the first program planning and evaluator staff person at the clinic. He never left.

Grant-Blackford was incorporated as a clinic in 1968 and transitioned to a comprehensive community mental health center in 1975. Kuczora was named acting executive director We all had to take more trainin 1980, and the position became permanent a year later. His title later was changed to President/CEO.

Over the past 40 years, Kuczora said substance abuse and

"When I was in school the only topic was mental illness, Certainly addiction was discussed from a biological perspective and in terms of its impact and consequences on family performance and responsibility within the community," he said. "But we were definitely a mental health industry. ing, but fortunately much of that could be offered at the local level."

Marianne "Mari" DiMatteo was chosen to succeed Kuczora after a three-month search that attracted 75 applications from 32 states. She began work in September, but Kuczora agreed to stay on for two months.

Although the Kuczora family will continue to live in Marion, the community officially said farewell and expressed its appreciation at a reception Friday night at the Garden House at Matter Park.

During the ceremony, State Rep. Ann Vermilion presented Kuczora with a Sagamore of the Wabash Award on behalf of Indiana Gov. Eric Holcomb. And the Cornerstone Behavioral Health Center on Wabash Avenue was renamed the Paul G. Kuczora Center.

Fun By The Numbers

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Level: Intermediate

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!
